

LOCAL TAVERN OWNERS OPPOSE LICENSE INCREASE

Radio stars at Arlington Friday for Cancer benefit

Some tickets still available for the 'show of shows'

At 8:15 tomorrow evening, Friday, March 12, an outstanding group of radio personalities will bring a "Parade of Stars" radio review to Arlington Heights and the surrounding area.

The radio show, sponsored by the Arlington Heights Woman's club, will be staged in the auditorium of the Arlington Heights township high school.

PROCEEDS from this project will be donated to two cancer research organizations, the American Cancer society and the University of Chicago Cancer Research foundation.

The participating radio stars, who are heard over several networks aired in the Chicago and Midwest area, are obligingly contributing their talents, in cooperation with the local club, to present an evening of entertainment to raise funds to fight cancer, public disease killer No. 2.

"FROM PRESENT indications, the artists will be greeted by a 'cold out' auditorium of citizens from Arlington Heights and nearby towns," reported Mrs. Paul F. Koenig, 908 N. Dunton, producer of the show.

A check-up of ticket sales by the ticket committee revealed that, as of Monday night, 1,000 tickets had been sold.

However, due to recent "bad traveling weather" and to the fact that many out-of-town people have been unable to purchase tickets, any of the remaining 200 tickets, if unsold by Thursday night, March 11, will go on sale at the door the night of the show at 7:45 p. m. Doors will be open at 7 p. m.

TICKETS ARE $1.20 for adults and 90 cents for students, tax included. They may be secured by calling Mrs. Don Frisk, 511 S. Belmont, phone 529-J, and may be purchased at Arlington Bookery, Lohr's Drug store and Jack's Swirl Shop in Arlington Heights; Kenning Dry Goods store in Mt. Prospect; and Prospect Heights hardware in Prospect Heights.

Arthur Hammerstein and Dorothy Dalton Hammerstein have graciously consented to appear on the program and have assisted in staging the parade.

Radio personalities who will participate in the radio program are George Watson, Paul Gibson, Prentiss, the King's Jesters, Louise King, Billy Leach, Jane Anderson and Fran Allison.

Bob Baron, pantomimist from television station WGN-TV, has been added to the radio star roster this week, according to Mrs. Koenig.

ASSISTING Mrs. R. M. Conrad, chairman of the project committee, in arranging the phases of the program are Mrs. Edward Paulus, 210 N. State rd.; Mrs. Robert Dibble, 817 N. Chestnut ave.; Mrs. J. E. Lohr, 102 Mayfair rd.; Mrs. A. H. Franzen, 315 E. Euclid ave.; Mrs. Charles L. Heiss, 811 N. Dunton and Mrs. Don Frisk.

Tax lines are getting shorter

Tax lines are getting shorter. The reason is that more taxpayers are using the withholding slip "W-2" form of income tax return and are mailing their returns, according to John T. Jarcecki, collector of internal revenue.

Because more taxpayers are using this form, lines in the federal building and eight of the district offices in Cook county are from 25 to 35 per cent shorter than a year ago.

Mail payments are steadily mounting as the March 15 deadline by which the returns must be postmarked approaches. Those still needing advice may find the crowds actually decreasing as Monday approaches.

Last week 1,718 persons filed returns in the federal building office, compared to 1,795 a week before and 1,879 a month before.

The closing day last year had 2,300 compared to 3,148 a week earlier and 2,418 ten days earlier.

Mail payments rose from 38,134 a week before to 60,211 last Friday. From last year's experience, they should total 350,000 on March 15 and 400,000 on March 16. Because of the burden on the post office, some will not be delivered until two or three days later.

No voting machines for April primaries

There will be no voting machines in Cook county for the April primaries.

This situation is the result of uncertainty about the city's plans to purchase voting machines, which caused the county board to defer action Friday.

Meanwhile, the city council voting machine committee, which had spent a full morning listening to representatives of two companies demonstrate and explain the merits of their voting machines, also deferred action Friday.

The demonstration had been ordered by the committee after the board of election commissioners had placed an order for delivery to the city of 80 voting machines for the April primaries and 450 for the November elections.

The council committee criticized the action of the commissioners because the latter failed to consult the committee when making their choice.

At the county board meeting, Mrs. Elizabeth Conkey pointed out that Mayor Kennelly had recently stated that the $7,000,000 bond issue approved by the city voters was too much to spend on the machines. The mayor had suggested that the county pay for part of the city's machines.

Daniel Ryan said the county's only responsibility is to provide machines for unincorporated areas.

Survey at AHTS determines future evening classes

With night school classes for adults at the Arlington Heights township high school more than half over, plans are being made already for a new, improved curriculum for the fall semester.

An adult education council of eight night school students, four representing Monday night classes and four Wednesday night classes, was elected to formulate the new program.

The basis for the council's recommendations for the fall term will be a survey that is being conducted during the classes this week to determine which classes should be taught next term.

Council members are Carlyle Hansen, 424 Derbyshire lane, woodworking; Lawrence Taylor, 38 S. Kerwood, art; Mrs. Fay Feddler, 307 N. Dunton, oral English; and Miss Marie Tischer, 413 W. Campbell, driver training, all of Arlington Heights and all from Monday night classes. Also: Miss Jeanne Miller, 302 W. Wing, interior decorating; Mrs. Daisy Baldwin, 212 N. Dunton, hooked rugs; John Eiler, 941 N. Patton, advanced dancing, all of Arlington Heights; and W. A. H. Demme, 310 Wapella, Mt. Prospect, woodworking. All are from the Wednesday night classes.

At a meeting of the council Tuesday, March 2, at the high school at 6:30 p. m., Carlyle Hansen was chosen permanent chairman, and Mrs. Baldwin was appointed vice chairman.

There will be no night school classes the week of March 21 through 27 because of spring vacation. Adult evening classes will resume March 29.

A party for adults attending this semester's evening classes will be held Tuesday, March 30, at 8 p. m. in the high school auditorium. There will be an amateur talent show and the woodworking, home economics, millinery and other classes will exhibit their handiwork. Refreshments will be served, also.

Home building permits granted for February 1948, include: Arlington Heights, 8, $97,000. Des Plaines, 2, $15,500. Bensenville, 2, $19,000. Glenview, 6, $102,000. Mt. Prospect, none. Palatine, 2, $16,500. Northbrook, 1, $7,000.

Home building

The 29th anniversary of the American Legion March 15-17, will be observed by thousands of Chicago area Legionnaires with patriotic celebrations and social programs in scores of Cook county's more than 400 posts, it has been announced by County Commander Walter J. Stanwick.

Controversy may keep sale of beer out of park

An aftermath of the unwillingness of tavern owners to pay an increased license fee in Arlington Heights may result in the end of beer sales at the fieldhouse. The charge was made by the tavern keepers that liquor or beer is being sold at carnivals and at parties in the fieldhouse contrary to law.

THEY PARTICULARLY ventured the statement that in many cases no state license was secured, no federal tax paid and that organizations and individuals were buying their supplies wholesale and the village was not collecting a retail license fee.

The office of the state liquor control commission advises the Herald that the state license is $50 a year and no license is issued for a lesser period. However, the commission in the past has issued three-day permits without charge. The federal fee is about $2.50. In all cases, states the state commission, the dispensers of liquid refreshment must have a permit from the village.

THE LOCAL tavern keepers used as a defense against higher license fees the fact that those who were paying no fee were in competition to business firms who are paying the license.

AHTS principal serves on NCA reviewing committee

LeRoy Knoepfel, principal of the Arlington Heights township high school, has been attending meetings this week of the North Central Association of Secondary Schools at the Palmer House in Chicago.

He is a member of the reviewing committee which passes on the applications of schools for membership in the organization.

The general session convocations of the association began Thursday morning, March 10.

Elementary school to hold tax referendum

The Public Elementary schools, District No. 23, will ask the voters to authorize new educational and building rates on April 10, the Board of Education announced today.

During the legislative session of 1945, the legislature passed the Butler Bills which were amended during the 1947 session. This legislation has made it necessary for most taxing bodies to hold one or more tax referendums during the past three years.

DUE TO THE fact that the voters of District No. 23 approved a maximum rate of 1.50% for educational purposes and .50% for building purposes in 1943, the year in which the Cook county assessor raised the assessment ratio, this district has held no referendum since that time. The effect of the Butler Bills has been varied in their application to the various taxing bodies of the state. In the case of the local school, it has frozen the amount of its levy to the tax rate voted in 1943 as applied to the 1943 assessed valuation. In view of the substantial growth of the community since 1943, it seems imperative that the public should vote a rate which will apply to the current assessed value of the district.

The ballot and notice of election sets forth, as required by law, the change in rate in both educational and building funds which the present and the proposed rates would raise. It is proposed that a maximum educational tax rate of .90% and a maximum building and bond rate of .25% be authorized.

MEMBERS of the Board of Education have expressed themselves as anxious to have the carefully established and as confident that the residents of the community will validate this step which recent legislation has made necessary.

PTA to present puppet show this Saturday

Puppets of the Cole Marionettes will present the "Legend of Sleepy Hollow," and a circus act for children from three to ninety-three at the Arlington Heights South school auditorium Saturday, March 20.

This program, under the sponsorship of the Arlington Heights Parent Teacher's association, will be shown in two performances, the first beginning at 1:30 p. m. and the second at 3:00 p. m.

George and Lucille Cole are the voices and producers of the thirteen characters used in this play. The marionettes are produced in the Cole studios at Oak Lawn, Ill. Mr. Cole builds all the stages, stage equipment, furniture and hand carved all the puppets, which he designs himself.

Mrs. Cole paints all the characters and designs the costumes, which are copied by Miss Marie Grus of Chicago. Miss Gertrude Lichtenberg, also of Chicago, serves as artist and technical advisor. The Coles collaborate on the script.

THEIR CURRENT production is the result of two months research on the customs and home life of the New Amsterdam Dutch. The colorful backdrops are hand painted with textile colors showing a typical background of the period.

The puppets are one third life size, costumed in celanese rayon jersey, shoes are made of kid gloves. Bobo, the elephant, is covered with several layers of chamois to give him honest to goodness wrinkles.

Background music for the show includes the fifth movement of Beethoven's sixth symphony, traditional hymns and square dance music.

TICKETS for both performances will be sold at the North and South schools, Lohr's Pharmacy and Sieburg's Drug store through the week of March 15. All tickets are 40 cents, tax included. Sales will be limited to auditorium capacity.

Girl Scouts Invade Paddock Publications Plant

Seventeen girls from Intermediate Girl Scout Troop No. 8, Arlington Heights, visited the publishing and printing establishment of Paddock Publications last week to see how a modern newspaper was assembled.

AFTER VISITING the editorial and advertising departments, the girl scouts watched the Duplex press at the back of the shop as it rolled out copies of the Arlington Heights Herald.

They were so intrigued at watching the process that they didn't even look at the staff photographer when this picture was snapped.

The girls visited the newspaper office and plant in the first of a series of tours arranged for them in business establishments in Arlington Heights. "THEY WERE so impressed by the noise and speed of the press and how the newspapers came out all folded and ready for mailing that they talked about it for hours," reported the troop leaders, Mrs. R. Dale Hinchliff, 806 S. Dunton ave., and Mrs. Mark Cleaver, 633 Burton place, both of Arlington Heights.

The tour through the newspaper establishment was of particular interest to the girls in the troop who had been taking a scribe course in learning how to report scout news.

New police radio gets quick arrest for car theft

An Arlington youth was arrested near Dundee, Ill., by state police Monday night for taking a car because he "wanted to go to the skating rink at Elgin."

He was returned to Arlington Heights by Police Chief Skoog and released on bond until a hearing this Saturday.

Only thirty minutes elapsed between the first call to the police and the time the boy was arrested at the town 18 miles southwest of here. The prompt action was due to the use of the new police two-way radio recently installed in the Arlington Heights police station and police cars.

MONDAY at 8 p. m. John Hamilton, of 1855 White street, Des Plaines, employed by the Arlington Seating company, parked his car at the plant to attend a foreman's meeting.

At 10:15 he discovered that the car, a 1940 Ford, was gone. A call to police brought Officers Johnson and Melbourne of the Arlington Heights police station, who broadcast the theft over the police radio.

Thirty minutes later state police picked up the 17-year-old boy. He was alone in the car. The youth was taken near Dundee to state police headquarters in Elgin and the car, the motor of which was ruined, was towed to a garage in Dundee.

JUDGE BEHRENS in Arlington Heights, at the request of Police Chief Skoog, issued a warrant for the boy's arrest "for driving a motor vehicle without the owner's permission."

After the youth told the police he took the car to get to the Elgin skating rink, he was released on bond until the hearing Saturday. The arrest was the first offense for the boy.

The motor of the car was so badly damaged that it will have to be rebuilt. The father of the youth agreed to pay for repairs.

'Equalization factor' replaces 21% increase in real estate taxes

This week the state revenue department wiped out completely the 21 per cent increase in Cook county real estate assessments for the 1947 quadrennial figures, as set by Assessor John S. Clark.

In place of the increase the state department imposed an "equalization factor" of 1.26 compared to 1.59 for 1946.

This means that the county's final equalized assessment of all property is $9,490,324,090 compared to $9,571,559,766 a year ago, or a decrease of 9.85 per cent.

It does not mean, however, that tax bills will be lower, since the controlling factor is the increase in tax levies which totaled $8,722,000 for the six major taxing bodies alone.

For suburban taxpayers, their individual situation will depend on how much the various taxing bodies they contribute to increased their levies in 1947. Some are subject to limitations under the Butler laws. The only general statement possible is that the assessment is down nearly one per cent.

Missing plane piloted by former Mt. Prospect man

Word was received in Mount Prospect this week that Harold S. Jacobs, better known as "Pete", who made his home here for more than 10 years, has been missing since February 28, when he left Tucson, Arizona, piloting a plane to Prescott, Arizona.

"Pete" moved to Tucson, Ariz., approximately six years ago to manage an air field there. He resided at 404 Hi Lusi when living in Mount Prospect.

When his plane did not reach its destination the Civilian Air Patrol was sent out to search for the plane. "Pete" was accompanied by another man, and the patrol reported Sunday that all hope for their safety had been abandoned, as the trip was routed over mountainous country and the Grand Canyon, which gave little chance for survival in case of a forced landing.

He has a wife and three sons, Jimmy, 16; Peter, 12; and Vernon, 5.

Red Cross fund drive may go 'over the top'

The Red Cross fund campaign drive in Arlington Heights was officially opened March 8.

As we go to press local fund chairman, Forrest Davis, has not been able to give any figures as to the total collections, but from reports he is receiving Arlington Heights will go "over the top" on the $2900 quota set for this community.

Merle Guild Post of the American Legion has voted a contribution, and other organizations are sure to help the cause, said Davis.

"Ken" Whitton has been appointed to head the drive in the business section. Local business men will be contacted within the next week.

Davis reports that several zone chairmen have requested additional supplies and that the response to date has been most gratifying.

The campaign will be concluded no later than March 22. Most solicitations, however, will be made by March 15 with only the "clean-up" anticipated after then.

Band to wear new uniforms at March 18 concert

Those long-awaited band uniforms will at last be put on public display. The occasion will be the music department concert in the Arlington Heights township high school auditorium Thursday evening, March 18. The concert will start promptly at 8:00 o'clock.

The first half of the program will feature the vocal department of the high school. Appearing on the program will be the Girls' chorus, under the direction of Miss Fern Ebbert; the Mixed chorus, under the direction of J. D. Bryson; the Triple Trio, directed by Frederick C. Schomer; the Boys' quartet; Mixed quartet; and Miss Carol Faulstich, soprano soloist.

An interesting program has been planned which is certain to please all lovers of vocal music.

THE SECOND HALF of the program will feature the instrumental department of the high school. The 60-piece concert band will feature such outstanding numbers as "Light Cavalry Overture," the popular "Mala-guena," "First Norwegian Rhapsody," and many other favorites.

Also featured will be Norman Spratt, trombone soloist; Marilyn Schlemmer, Margaret Ashe and Arthur Seitz playing Beethoven's Grand Trio for flutes; and Marlene Holmes, Irene Latoff, Mary Bee Fowler and June Rindlsbacher playing a clarinet quartet, "Andante and Scherzo" by Waterson.

Admission is free.

Memo to dogs, cars business men; '48 licenses are due

The deadline for purchase of Arlington Heights licenses for 1948 for dogs, automobiles and businesses has been set for March 15.

Chief Skoog issued the following statement today: "Several hundred local residents have failed to get their licenses for autos and dogs, which are due January 1. After March 15, regular arrest tickets will be issued."

The chief said that to date police have been issuing "courtesy cards" reminding car owners to get their vehicle tags.

Perhaps many of those who received the courtesy notices have merely failed to display the vehicle tags as required by ordinance, but the vehicle tags must be displayed on the windshield or the driver will risk a visit to the judge.

According to Forrest Davis, village clerk, licenses are being purchased at about the same ratio as previous years. He says that 1300 of the 2,000 Arlington Heights car owners have their vehicle tags, 225 of the 600 dog owners have purchased a dog license and about three-fourths of the business men have secured their licenses.

Ask other business to share part of increased costs

The Liquor Dealers association of Arlington Heights had the opportunity Monday evening to acquaint the members of the village board with their position in the matter of a raise in cost of tavern licenses. They are now paying $350 a year. A proposed ordinance raises that amount to $600.

THE BOARD was asked a week ago to delay ordinance action until the tavern owners had the opportunity to state their side of the picture.

Of the 15 dealers in Arlington Heights dispensing alcoholic beverages, six were present at the meeting to protest the proposed increase.

They were Ben Rosenquist, spokesman for the Rose-Lo Inn; Everett Lindgren, Arlington Bowling Lanes; Loretta Broniecki, Loretta's Castle cafe; Kurt Germer, Stonegate tavern; Vincent Sadecky, Vail tavern; and Art Dieball, Union tavern.

AFTER THE tavern representatives argued that 3 percent of the business houses in Arlington Heights were paying more than 80 percent of the business licenses, the board asked the representatives to suggest a fair figure.

The latter were not willing to commit themselves, but said that the tax fee should remain at $350 for at least six months.

Vincent Sadecky, from the Vail tavern, told the board he would be willing to pay a fee of $1,000 or $2,000 if the board would cut down on the number of taverns in town.

VILLAGE trustee Franke said that he always thought that $350 was a ridiculously low fee for a tavern license. His request for a compromise figure from the tavern representatives was ignored at the meeting.

All the board members present at the meeting stated that they favored an increase in the fee and indicated that they favored a settlement on the question before the end of the fiscal year.

Village attorney Thal advised the tavern representatives that they were in a business that could not be compared to other businesses. According to state law, he said, the taverns could be taxed at any price that local authorities wished to designate.

NOT PROTESTING officially at the meeting were these liquor establishments: Arlington Liquor mart, Evergreen shop, Benny's tavern, Park View tavern, Eddie's Wines and Liquors, Arlington tavern, Glueckert's tavern, Arlington cafe, and Town Pump.

A memorandum handed to each board member at the opening of the meeting read as follows:

March 8, 1948

To Whom This May Concern: "The Retail Liquor association of Arlington Heights has requested this audience with the village board of Arlington Heights for the sole purpose of objecting to the proposed increase in the liquor license of Arlington Heights Tavern Owners."

"It is our concern as business men-women, as well as taxpayers of this fine community, that the village have sufficient funds to meet prevailing expenses as they incur, but, we object to your method of taxing a definite minority of the business establishments to the extent whereby four (4%) per cent of the business establishments must pay over eighty (80%) of the city business licenses."

"Other statistics of 1947 show that 310 business license (not including liquor licenses) paid $4,315.00 or an average of $13.92 per license for one year, compared with a class A liquor license of $350.00 per year. To us it doesn't seem fair that industries such as Arlington Seating Co., Grigsby Radio Co., Rowles Mfg. Co., etc., as well as business houses as Arlington Bank, Arlington Theatre, well equipped stores and shops, etc., are defraying the City's expense with a license fee averaging $13.92 per year. Also you will note the largest contributions to local benefits are the retail taverns."

"In conclusion, after carefully analyzing our profits for the past year, which were at least 20% lower than the boom years, and are still going down due to decreased spending for luxuries, increased costs of material and labor, (although the public demands our prices remain constant), we feel that if the village must have additional funds, why cannot all other business be increased to absorb the burden."

Symptoms Of Heart Disease

by SIEBURG DRUG CO., Inc.

Heart disease need not shorten your life. Many people live for years with a diseased or weakened heart. Furthermore, they live full, enjoyable lives with few restrictions. These are the people who took warning from re-occurring symptoms and consulted the doctor early and followed his advice faithfully.

Some of the more common symptoms of heart disease are swelling feet, breathlessness, fatigue, dizziness, digestive disturbances, and pains in the chest.

If you have been experiencing any of these symptoms, see your doctor now. Buy what medicine he prescribes from a skilled pharmacist.

Display 'Movie Pest' posters at Arlington theater this week end

Posters made by the seventh and eighth grades for the "Movie Pest" contest being sponsored by the Illinois Federation of Woman's clubs, will be displayed this week end in the lobby of the Arlington Heights theater.

Students from the Catholic and Public grade schools have entered posters in this contest. The public is urged to view the posters and get a general idea of a "Movie Pest."

Baganz trio at St. Peter church in sacred music concert

The Baganz trio will present a concert of sacred Lenten music at St. Peter Ev. Lutheran church, Arlington Heights Sunday, March 14, at 7:30 p. m. It was announced by Rev. L. V. Stephan.

The public is cordially invited to attend. There is no admission charge but a free will offering will be made.

The trio, making its third appearance at the St. Peter's church, consists of Otto Baganz, harpist, his son Reuben Baganz, featured on the marimba, and Mrs. Rhoda Baganz, on the vibraharp and chimes.

Through many years of practice, Otto Baganz has acquired a marvellously brilliant technique on this difficult instrument. Having begun his musical career at the age of nine, he became a pupil of the famous Enrico Tramonti, renowned harpist, and of Joseph Vito of Chicago.

The assistants to the harpist, Reuben and Rhoda Baganz, helped to foster a deeper appreciation of what is best in the realm of sacred music.

Of more than passing interest is Mr. Baganz's harp. It is acclaimed by experts as "the last word in the harp maker's art." It took two years to construct the harp, whose tone is of superlative beauty and volume. It has been called the "Stradivarius of harps."

Whether musically educated or not, every one will be delighted and spiritually edified by the concert.

To speak before Presbyterian women

Dr. Herrick B. Young will be the speaker at a dinner meeting of the Woman's association of the Arlington Heights Presbyterian church to be held Wednesday, March 17, at 6:30 p. m.

Dr. Young is secretary of the Department of Missionary personnel of the Presbyterian church. He will speak on world affairs about which he has first-hand knowledge. He has lived in several countries and has travelled extensively through South America, the Near East, Africa and the Far East.

Teachers to present PTA program

The regular monthly meeting of the Arlington Heights PTA will be held in the South school auditorium next Tuesday evening, at eight o'clock.

A special feature of the program will be the varied exhibits from the class rooms, Scout craft from Troop 32, and bead craft and leatherette work from Cub Pack 232. The doors of the South school will be open at 7:30 for all who wish to view the exhibits before the meeting.

The four special subjects chosen for the evening's program are Speech, Shop, Art and Music. Mrs. Lorraine Ring will speak on the progress being made in correction of speech habits.

J. C. Clemens will talk about the purpose of the shop program and will illustrate with pictorial slides especially prepared for this program.

Mrs. Kay Campbell will demonstrate the results of the art program with a fine exhibit from her classes, while Harold Brunt will have one of his classical music class conducted.

Charters will be presented to Boy Scout Troop 32 and Cub Pack 232 at this meeting. These two organizations are sponsored by the Arlington Heights PTA.

Refreshments will be served by the second grade mothers of the North and South schools, who will be hosts for the evening.

Blyth Morrow, Susan Franke win Saturday amateur show

The second of a series of amateur shows being held at the Arlington Theater each Saturday afternoon, came to a successful finish this week. Blyth Morrow, acrobatic, took first prize in the show, with Susan Franke, dancer, winning second place honors.

This Saturday there will be five acts consisting of Lenaze Gable, dancer; Alice Olson, pianist; Paul Schaefer, accordionist; Gilbert Hayes, electric guitar; and Charlene Hagberg, dancer.

Dick Michalski, will again be master of ceremonies. Preceding the amateur show will be the regular scheduled Saturday movie, Roy Rogers in "Heldorado," plus "Little Miss Broadway."

Amateur show entry blanks may be obtained from the theater, Baylor's Firestone store, or from teachers at all Arlington Heights grade schools.

Announce engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ebtsch, Rand road, Arlington Heights, announce the engagement of their daughter, Ann, to John Rhodes, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Rhodes, of Harrisonburg, Virginia. They plan to be married the 22nd of May.

Centennial anniversary of Heights Presbyterian church near at hand

In the year 1855 the Arlington Heights Presbyterian church was first organized, thus in another seven years the centennial anniversary of that church will be observed.

A committee, consisting of L. J. Tesch, chairman; Miss Lucille Paddock, Mrs. John Allen, Mrs. Albert Bauer, Miss Mae Miller, and Alex Lips, has been appointed to start collecting all available information concerning the church.

One of the stories of the early days of the Presbyterian church that has already come to the attention of the Historical committee is the following:

"Among the staunch supporters of the church during its early existence, we find the name of Mrs. D. K. Draper associated with flowers and a keen sense of art in decorations. (Mrs. Draper was the mother-in-law of Mrs. C. P. Draper, who lives at 631 N. Dunton.)

"For forty years it was the custom of Mrs. Draper to cultivate a variety of beautiful flowers in her flower garden on the farm where she lived, a mile or more east of Arlington Heights. Early each Sunday morning, it is said, she would gather an armful of the choicer blooms and make her way down the lane and follow the gravel road which led to the church. There she applied her skill, arranging the flowers in vases and baskets before the pulpit and on the organ.

"Then tracing her course back over the road and up the lane to her home, she prepared for church and started back to attend the services."

Seventh grade Panthers beat Palatine, 24-16

The Arlington Heights seventh grade Panthers basketball team played the Palatine seventh grade boys February 27 in the Arlington Heights South school gym, defeating them 24-16.

High scorers for the game were Eakins and Baldwin of the Panthers, with 8 points each. The Palatine boys nosed out Arlington in height with their 5' 10" center.

A good turnout is expected for the Panthers Red Comb game which will be played Saturday morning, March 13, in the Presbyterian gym. The basketball season is almost over and the team wants to play as many games as possible before baseball enters the picture.

Teams interested in playing the Panthers should contact Earl Riley, Arlington Heights 532-M.

Lenten and confirmation

The final midweek Lenten service will be conducted at the Arlington Heights St. Peter Ev. Lutheran church next Wednesday evening, March 17, at 8 p. m. The Rev. L. V. Stephan, pastor, will deliver the sixth in a series of sermons on "The Voice of the Cross" when he speaks on "The Eternity of the Cross."

Encouraged by the fine attendance throughout the Lenten season, the congregation takes pleasure in inviting all who are otherwise not affiliated with a Christian church to attend.

The two confirmation classes of St. Peter church will make the sacred vow of allegiance to Christ on the traditional day of confirmation, Palm Sunday, March 21, in a service beginning at 10:30 a. m., fifteen minutes earlier than the usual hour. Forty-nine catechumens will kneel before the altar draped with palms, to make their sacred vow and receive the blessing.

The children's class, thirty-nine in number, will present an impressive picture in their robes, the girls in white and the boys in black. The ten adults will follow the children in the procession.

Maundy Thursday, March 25, the institution of the Lord's supper will be remembered with a solemn service and celebration of the sacrament at 8 p. m. The catechumens will partake of holy communion in this service, together with the congregation.

Good Friday, March 26, with the altar and crucifix draped in traditional black, an impressive m. A similar service with communion service together with munion in the German tongue the celebration of holy com-will be held that morning at 10 munion will take place at 8 p. a. m.

RELIABLE GUIDANCE

If in need of mortuary service, and with no previous experience in the matter, a family is likely to be confused, for instance, about costs.

Usually, the standard of living followed by the loved one is the reliable basis when choosing a Service.

We are able to meet a wide range of needs and requirements, depending on each family's decision, and every Service is complete, regardless of financial circumstances.

Bells ring for Phyllis Shafer, William Walt

A wedding ceremony held at the Irving Park Methodist church, February 28, united in holy matrimony Miss Phyllis Arline Shafer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Olin Shafer, Chicago, and William E. Walt, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Van R. Walt, Mt. Prospect. Amidst palms, baskets of white gladioli, and satin ribbon tied pews, the young couple repeated their vows after Rev. Minion, who officiated at the wedding.

Miss Lois Wallner as soloist and Isabel Ebert as organist, both connected in that capacity with The Northerners of radio fame, furnished the music for the ceremony. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Miss Shafer was gown in a dress of flesh satin and antique lace, and wore a veil made of flesh colored ostrich feathers and illusion net. Her bridal bouquet was a spray of white camellias.

Maid of honor for the bride was her sister, Miss Barbara Shafer. Her dress was of turquoise faille, styled with an old fashioned plaited bustle. She carried a sheath of dark red spiffire roses. The bridesmaids, Joan Blaeser, Georgia Ann Glader, Marilyn Johnston, Harriet Rose and Mrs. Warren Weber, were all dressed identical to the maid of honor, and carried the same kind of flowers.

The bridegroom was attended by his brother, James Alan Walt, as best man. Serving as ushers were Jack Halvorsen, Jack Dering, David Kramer, Leonard Dahm and Everett Sweeney.

A blue lace dress with a corsage of orchids was worn by the bride's mother, Mrs. Walt. She was attired in a dinner dress of champagne beige, had gold accessories, and a corsage of pink camellias.

Two hundred and fifty guests attended the reception at The Pantry in Park Ridge, which was held following the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Walt are now on a two weeks honeymoon in Florida. They will be at home at 6433 N. Northwest Highway, Chicago, after April 1.

Geo. Schimmings observe 25 years of marriage

Mr. and Mrs. George Schimmings, 216 N. State road, celebrated their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary Sunday, March 8, at a four o'clock turkey dinner.

Among the eighty guests who attended the party were close relatives, employees and members of a card club to which the Schimmings have belonged for ten years.

Marvin Prellberg, 114 S. Pine, Arlington Heights, was toastmaster at the affair which was held at the Lutheran school hall in Arlington Heights.

Douglas Samuelson, of Chicago, provided the entertainment with a comedy monologue.

Coming marriage

Mr. and Mrs. Roy B. Christie of Higgins road, Bensenville, announce the coming marriage of their daughter, Elaine Pam, to Mr. George Grupe, son of Mrs. E. Grupe of Park Ridge.

The wedding is to take place Saturday, May 8, at 7:00 o'clock in the evening at the Methodist church of Des Plaines, Rev. Potter performing the ceremony.

Mr. Grupe is employed at the Arlington Airport in Arlington Heights and the bride-to-be is at the DoAll company of Des Plaines.

Celebrates 80th year with 4 birthday parties

Four parties, including the one to be held tonight, Thursday, were bestowed this week on Mrs. Mathilda Lindquist of Arlington Heights, who believes that life begins at two times forty.

A Sunday night family supper, which was attended by 40 guests, started the series of parties, which were all held at the Frank Rogers home, 1432 No. Dunton. Two parties were held Tuesday, the actual birthday, one in the afternoon for 20 neighbors and friends, and another in the evening for out of town guests. Guests from Chicago will attend the party this evening.

Mrs. Lindquist was born in Sweden and came to this country when she was 19 years old. She has lived with her daughter and family at the above address for the past 12 years. Mrs. Rogers is her only child, and besides her son-in-law, she also has three grandchildren, Beverly, Verlene, and Cheryl Rogers.

Auxiliary notes

The March social meeting of Merle Guild Unit No. 208, the American Legion auxiliary of Arlington Heights, will be held at the home of the president, Mrs. Merle Holtz, at 1:30 p. m., March 16.

March 10 Merle Holtz and Mae Wisersky went to Vaughn hospital to spend the day working for the veterans.

The auxiliary will give a birthday party Saturday evening, March 13, for members of the Legion Post and their wives, at Legion hall, beginning with a six o'clock supper.

Arline Wiegand to be editor for a week

Miss Arline G. Wiegand, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Wiegand of 224 So. Highland ave., Arlington Heights, will help to edit the Nevada Evening Journal, Nevada, Iowa, during her spring vacation.

Miss Wiegand is a sophomore at Iowa State college, Ames. She is majoring in technical journalism and is a society reporter for the Iowa State Daily, the college newspaper.

Ten students were selected from the journalism classes for the spring trip to Nevada. They will publish three supplements to the Nevada paper during their 1-week stay. This trip is being sponsored by the college on an educational basis.

Miss Wiegand's other activities on campus include work on Veishea, the all-college spring celebration, and with the Science Women's club. She is affiliated with Gamma Phi Beta social sorority.

Gala party marks 25th wedding anniversary of Harley G. Ungers

A lovely dinner party for 135 guests at the Svithoid Singing club in Chicago Saturday evening marked the twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Harley G. Ungers, 301 S. Dunton, Arlington Heights.

Stanley Pepper, Inverness Countryside, brother-in-law of the Ungers, acted as toastmaster and introduced various impromptu speakers, all of whom were close acquaintances of the Ungers. Mrs. Ungers was gowned in a gold dinner dress, which was set off with an orchid corsage. The Ungers' daughters, Joan and Lois, were also present at the party. Joan wore a green taffeta formal, while her sister, Lois, who came home from her studies at William Woods college to attend the anniversary celebration, wore a yellow dinner dress.

Special guests at the party were camillia corsages. The evening's entertainment consisted of a violinist and accordionist, who played and sang during the dinner hour. All the guests enjoyed dancing later in the evening.

Out-of-town guests, namely out of the Chicago metropolitan area, included Mr. and Mrs. Percy Franks of Kansas City, Mo.; Stephen Stephano of Philadelphia, Penn.; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hutchinson of Waukegan;

Fun day and auction for district women next Wednesday

Every clubwoman in the Seventh District is looking forward with great anticipation to the district's "Fun Day and Auction" to be held in the Wilson Park fieldhouse, Milwaukee and Wilson avenues, on Wednesday, March 17, from 12 noon to 4 p. m. Mrs. George F. Gschwindt of Palatine, first vice president of the district, will act as auctioneer. She will call for bids on homemade bread, pastries, candy, jelly, plants, etc. There will be a "Penny Social" in charge of Mrs. Harold Schert of 4846 N. Oakley Blvd. Refreshments, consisting of rolls and coffee, will be sold to all attending this party.

Plans are underway to make this a very gala affair. Mrs. Gschwindt is chairman of arrangements and will be assisted, in addition to Mrs. Schert, by Mrs. Norman D. Oram, 3806 N. Francisco ave.; Mrs. E. J. Heckel, 6915 W. Hubbard st.; Mrs. Edward Schoessling, 5815 W. Circle ave.; Mrs. Walter Kunert, 1754 N. Monitor ave. and Mrs. E. R. Wuertemberger of Des Plaines, district president.

Joyce Richards, Bruce Bartlett take vows

The wedding vows of Miss Joyce Marilyn Richards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Richards, Arlington Heights, and Mr. Bruce Dale Bartlett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bartlett of Chicago, were repeated before the altar of St. John Evangelical and Reformed church, at 6:30 p. m., Saturday. Two baskets of delphinium and gladioli accented the candleabra, which held the glowing candles that lent the only light to the ceremony.

Rev. W. F. Kamphenkel tied the nuptial knot. During the service Florence Lunning sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Fred Buehler at the organ. Dressed in a white vel-very gown, Miss Richards was given in marriage by her father. Her dress was styled with fitted bodice, having drop shoulder effect, and long sleeves, and a full skirt ending in a four foot train. A tiara of seed pearls held the fingertip veil in place. Miss Richards' attire was set off with a blue lavalier and a bridal bouquet of white carnations and narcissus. Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Lorraine Fowler, her friend. Miss Fowler's dress was aqua in color and was styled similar to the bride's.

Community Camera
She carried a bouquet of pink carnations tied with an aqua ribbon, and wore a matching spray in her hair.

Bridesmaids were Patricia Kelly and Kathryn Connolly, both cousins of the bridegroom. They wore yellow and orchid dresses respectively, which were fashioned as the maid of honor's. Miss Kelly carried aqua carnations, and wore a matching spray in her hair, while Miss Connolly had yellow carnations, with a matching spray for her hair.

Carl Graves Jr., friend of the groom, served as best man, with Howard Richards Jr., brother of the bride, and Frederick Bartlett, cousin of the groom, acting as ushers. The men all wore tuxedos and had white carnation boutonnières. Mrs. Richards chose to wear a powder blue crepe dress for her daughter's wedding. It was styled with square neckline and peplum waistline. A white carnation corsage was pinned to the shoulder of the dress. The groom's mother was attired in a pink print dress and wore an orchid corsage. The bride's grandmother wore a black suit, set off with an orchid corsage, while the groom's grandmother was gowned in a navy blue dress and had a carnation corsage.

A reception at the Arlington Heights fieldhouse followed the wedding, with 300 guests attending. Wally Hahnfeldt's orchestra furnished music for dancing. Mr. and Mrs. Bartlett are now at home in their own apartment, 5448 Congress street, Chicago.

All Ill. Wesleyan

Miss Peggy Kruse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kruse, Milwaukee Avenue, Wheeling, was elected Queen at the nationally annual "Sweetheart Formal" dinner-dance held recently in the Memorial Center on the Illinois Wesleyan university campus.

Five girls were chosen by the fraternity to reign in the royal court as candidates for the Sigma Chi Sweetheart. The event began with a candle-light dinner where all guests of the fraternity members were presented with favor-gifts. The banquet was followed by the formal dance and was highlighted by a floorshow. The decorations were carried out in blue and gold, fraternity colors and the fraternity white cross.

A sophomore at Wesleyan, she was graduated from Northbrook high school. She is a member of the university chorus, Galpha and Sigma Alpha Iota, national music sorority.

Fred Busse, Marengo, has eightieth birthday

Though it was only his nineteenth birthday February 29, Fred Busse of Marengo marked his eightieth year of life. An open house, which was attended by 107 relatives and friends, was held at his farm home north of Marengo, where he has lived for 54 years.

Guests came from Rockford, Caledonia, Chicago, Arlington Heights, Mt. Prospect, Des Plaines, Itasca, Woodstock, Harvard, Marengo, and Kenosha and Green Bay, Wis.

Cards, bunco, and the reviewing of many past memories, kept the guests entertained. A six o'clock supper was served to 50 visitors and again to midnight guests.

The guest of honor received many lovely flowers, cards, and other gifts in honor of the occasion.

At Illinois

The Bensenville Home has received word of the graduation of Michael (Mike) Escoria, "cum laude," from the University of Illinois. He is remaining on the campus at Champaign, having enrolled in the graduate school of Social Welfare.

"Mike" entered Bensenville Home as a very small child with his two sisters, and a brother. While attending Bensenville high school he was active in sports, as was his brother Jack. Prior to his service overseas he attended North Park college in Chicago.

Other students away at school from Bensenville Home are: George Kernats and Albert Thomas, University of Illinois; Gilbert Zemke, University of New Mexico; Richard Thomas, Elmhurst college; Sally Fromm, Beal, North Central college, Naperville, and Mary Louise Hake at Evangelical Deaconess Hospital (nurses trng.), St. Louis.

New Neighbors In The City of Good Neighbors

The first of our new neighbors this week is Mrs. C. Ridgely Kemp and son David, left, of 1022 N. Yale street, Arlington Heights.

The Kemps moved to our town on February 3 from Midland, Mich., which is about 120 miles north of Detroit.

"ALTHOUGH I WASN'T HERE to help pick out our new house," Jeanette Kemp told the inquiring reporter, "my husband couldn't have made a better selection."

They agree that the location is ideal for transportation to the loop and to Mr. Kemp's offices as general superintendent of the Alumicast corporation in Chicago.

David, seventeen months old, is the couple's youngest child. He has blue eyes, blonde hair and "a wonderful, even disposition."

KATHRYNE, a young lady of 12 years, is the Kemp's other child and has studied the violin for two years. She is in the seventh grade at the North school and plays the violin in the school band. Kathryne has blonde hair and brown eyes.

"Her favorite hobby in addition to her violin is drawing," her mother said. "She always has loved to draw, and her favorite subjects are people and animals."

MRS. WILLIAM E. KOPPLIN, 410 W. Wing street, center, has three hobbies to occupy her days, and all her spare time, too, if she can find any.

The 'hobbies' are her three sons, Billy, who is the big brother of four years, and twins Bobby and Johnny, 20 months old. Brother Bill, sitting on the left in the picture, with his arm around his mother's shoulder, has sandy brown hair and big brown eyes. The twins are tow heads and both have blue eyes.

"BUT THERE'S ONE EASY way to tell the twins apart," Mrs. Kopplin stated, "because Bobby (in the center in the above picture) has curly hair while Johnny's hair is straight."

Mr. Kopplin is a native of Arlington Heights, having been graduated from the high school here. He then lived in Chicago and, while in the army, was stationed in San Antonio, Texas, where he met his wife.

"WE LIVED IN CHICAGO for two years," Hester Kopplin told the reporter, "but in November of 1947 we moved back to Arlington Heights. My husband always said he never found another town he could like as well as his own town."

Mrs. Kopplin, however, is a "Texan and a Southerner" and still talks with traces of "deep south" dialect. However, she admits that she has become fond of the north and our town "and even the snow."

Mr. Kopplin is employed in the cost department of the Henry Valve company in Chicago.

THE KOPPLINS LOVE the outdoors and are planning to do their own landscaping as soon as the weather permits. With three cager helpers, the landscaping transformation should be an interesting project.

Mrs. Robert G. Hey and daughter Nancy, 16 months old, right, are part of the third newcomer family to Arlington Heights that the Herald is introducing to the community this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Hey aren't new as far as distance is concerned, for they moved here in October from Palatine after living there for seven years.

"WE ALWAYS WANTED TO LIVE in Arlington Heights," Ruth Hey told the reporter, and we finally found an opportunity to buy a home here. My sister lives in Arlington Heights, too, so we haven't had any trouble getting acquainted."

Mrs. Hey's sister is Mrs. Victor Bedingfield, 612 N. Dunton.

The Hey's have two children older than Nancy. Stephen, who will be six on April 16, is in the kindergarten at the South school, and Tony, who will be four on May 14, hopes time will "hurry up" so he can go to school with his brother.

STEPHEN, WHO ALREADY HAS acquired a hobby, got his Dad interested in model trains and they spend many evenings studying their mutual pastime, with Tony as a spectator.

Nancy, who is a blue-eyed blonde, has her own special hobby, too. She loves to climb up and down the stairs "which helps keep her out of mischief when I'm busy with the housework," Mrs. Hey added.

MRS. HEY ATTENDS the evening adult classes at the Arlington Heights township high school. She is taking sewing and has just finished a plaid skirt for Nancy.

Mr. Hey works in downtown Chicago and does industrial advertising for Advertising Producers, Inc.

High school girls plan fashion show Monday

The Girls' club and home economics department of Arlington Heights township high school will feature a fashion show Monday, March 15, at 2:00 in the high school gymnasium. Through the courtesy of Simplicity Patterns the student body and public will be privileged to see an elaborate show with "Dear Diary by a Modern Miss" as the theme. The latest fashions will be demonstrated. Miss Mary S. Handlin, Dean of Women and Home Economics instructor, and Mrs. Harold A. Haave, Home Economics instructor, are the faculty advisors in charge of the affair.

All mothers and friends of the high school girls are cordially invited to a tea which will start at 1:30. The first year Home Economics class under the direction of Miss Handlin will arrange, prepare, and serve the food for the tea. After the tea the mothers are invited to examine a group of Miss Katharine Renick's paintings which are now on display in the art room.

Miss Adeline Heinze, educational stylist, will bring to Arlington Simplicity-made garments which will be modeled by girls selected according to height, size, poise, grooming and posture. Thirty girls have been chosen but only eighteen will actually model because Miss Heinze will select the girls whose personality and coloring fit the garment to be worn. Mrs. Harold Haave and her Home Economics class will assist the models with their clothes. Several girls from the Home Economics classes will model clothes that they have made from Simplicity patterns.

The members of the Girls' Club Board will serve as ushers at the style show. They are Joy Hermesdorf, Joan Malzahn, Pat Peterson, Joan Unger, Dolores Windheim and Joan Florence.

Eighteen of the following carefully selected girls will model: Marlene Becker, Marilyn Beigel, Pat Boyles, Sylvia Brown, Peggy Bryson, Jeanine Burnier, Jean Busse, Martha Collins, Barbara Drake, Phoebe Anne Ellis, Marilyn Franke, Carolyn Freitag, Phyllis Freitag, Janice Hackbarth, Ruth Ravarnek, Elaine Henke, Betty Hodges, Lois Jacobsen, Jo Elynn Laird, Barbara LaMar, Joan LaMar, Dolores Languth, Joanne Leckband, Donna Mills, Jane Page, Bonnie Peterson, Pat Ryden, Mary Lou Sander, Kathy Shanklin, Virginia Sikorski, Betty Suerth, and Bonnie Walt.

Albert Kloepper

Final rites for Albert Kloepper, Palatine road, Arlington Hts., will be held this morning, Thursday, from the Deerfield Lutheran church, from the Deerfield Lutheran church, Northbrook. Interment will be in Sacred Heart cemetery.

Mr. Kloepper had been making his home with his daughter, Mrs. Henrietta Pilgard, where he passed away Monday evening. He is survived by his children, Earl, Estelle Weber, Herbert, James, Mae Steiner, and Henrietta Pilgard; 12 grandchildren; one great grandchild; seven brothers, Ben, Raymond, Arthur, William, Edward, Frank and Martin; and one sister, Pauline Scully.

Withdraw petitions for zoning changes

Wilbur C. Sheppard, route 1, Foundry road, Mount Prospect, has withdrawn his proposed reclassification petition for the property on the south side of Foundry road about 600 feet east of the Milwaukee, St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie railroad in Wheeling township.

Matt F. Vogel, Des Plaines, has withdrawn his petition which sought to reclassify two acres between Milwaukee and Greenwood avenue, about 750 feet north of the intersection of Milwaukee and Greenwood in Maine township. He asked for a change from farming to a B-2 (business, tavern and amusement) district.

BIRTHDAY GREETINGS

With the celebration this week of the 36th anniversary of the founding of the Girl Scouts of America, community leaders joined in sending their greetings, a few of which are quoted below.

Mrs. Alva Meyer, President of the Arlington Heights Girl Scout Council:

"Thirty-six years ago this week — on March 12 — twelve girls in Savannah, Ga., held a meeting. They were the first Girl Scouts in the U. S. A. Today more than a million American girls are pledged to the democratic ideals of Scouting. This record speaks for itself — a thirty-six year record of the best kind of training for citizenship, useful living and just good fun. To all Girl Scouts, I send best wishes for a 'Happy Birthday' and many more years of successful service."

Paddock Publications.

"Have you heard about the Girl Scouts? There are more than 300 of them in Arlington Heights — and they're doing a swell job. They're learning lots of new things about the world we live in — they're a real help to any community... they have fun working and playing together. They're getting good training, too, for grownup responsibilities that will be theirs tomorrow. We want to wish a great big 'Happy Birthday' to all of them."

Mrs. Richard Frasier, President of the Parent-Teacher organization of Arlington Heights:

"The interests of the National Congress of Parent and Teachers and of the national Girl Scout organization are alike centered on the welfare of young people — the boys and girls who will be the responsible citizens of tomorrow. I want to add my best wishes for continued success."

Mr. R. E. Clabaugh, Supt. of the Public Schools of Arlington Heights:

"The Schools and Girl Scouting have the same basic philosophy of education and the same objectives. Girl Scouting offers the schools a program that supplements and rounds out the opportunities that the school can offer its students. Both aim to develop wholesome, intelligent, well equipped Americans who can assume responsibilities as well as accept the privileges of citizenship. I send my congratulations on a job well done."

Mrs. Rex Volz, Troop Camp chairman:

"Camping will receive top billing on the Girl Scout summer program this year. Local Girl Scouts will have the opportunity to use the new Troop Camp site near Dam No. 2 and also to attend Day Camp. Camping has always been an integral part of the program of the 36-year-old Girl Scout organization, and special effort is being made this year by the Council to extend camping facilities and opportunities to the ever-growing membership. Happy Birthday Girl Scouts."

Mr. Arnold W. Bathje, Prin. St. Peter's Lutheran School:

"Girl Scouts — United By Ideals — that's the 1948 slogan of the Girl Scouts of the U. S. A. American Girl Scouts are part of a great world organization numbering more than three million members in sixty-one nations around the globe — all of them pledged to the common ideal of citizenship and service, of duty to God and country. May I add my voice to the many good wishes for the continued success of Girl Scouting in Arlington Heights."

Sister Marie, Prin. St. James Catholic School:

"Today's Girl Scouts are tomorrow's women. These girls become better wives and mothers, better citizens, happier, more interesting people. Girl Scouting in the United States is 36 years old this week and I say 'Congratulations, Girl Scouts,' for a 36-year record of building better citizens."

Alderman Franke honored at parties

Alderman William "Bill" Franke of Arlington Heights is not stating definitely that he plans to leave the City of Good Neighbors for good, but he does admit that he will be spending part of the immediate future between his home in Arlington and his business in Magnolia, Ark.

Bill, who has lived in Arlington Heights for 16 years, is vice president of the Berry-Asphalt Co., Chicago, who are moving their offices to Arkansas in order to be nearer their oil refineries. As a result Mr. Franke will be severing direct connections with many business associates and friends in Chicago.

"We have no immediate intentions of selling our home or moving the entire family down to Arkansas," stated the Franke. Mr. Franke will leave for Arkansas around March 18 to help get the company settled in their new quarters. A series of parties in honor of Mr. Franke were given by friends and business associates within the past two weeks.

LAST THURSDAY he was guest of honor of the Chicago Oil Men's club at what they proclaimed "Bill Franke Day." They presented him with clothing they thought suitable for wearing in the South, complete from a corn cob pipe to fencing gloves, all packed in a beautiful piece of luggage.

Thirty-five close friends in the oil business entertained Mr. Franke for dinner Friday evening at Hanigan's. They all spent the night at the Blackstone and had breakfast together before parting. He was accompanied with another piece of luggage, equipped with picnic accessories. The group also remembered Mrs. Franke, sending a gift certificate from Marshall Fields to her.

SATURDAY evening both Mr. and Mrs. Franke were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Pike at Weller's. Mr. Pike is another business associate of "Bill's."

Mr. and Mrs. Franke and daughters, Marilyn and Suzanne, were breakfast guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Forsberg of Rockford at the Milk Pail in Elgin, Sunday morning. Besides these special parties Mr. Franke has been entertained at daily luncheons by his various business acquaintances and friends.

Anna Stagaard

Funeral services were held Monday at 1:30 p. m., from the Arlington Heights Lutheran church, for Anna Stagaard, 612 N. State road, Arlington Heights. Reverend L. V. Stephan officiated and interment was in Hebron, Ill.

Mrs. Stagaard was born April 26, 1885 in Hebron. She was married April 16, 1909 to William Stagaard. This couple made their home in Arlington Heights for the past three and one half years. Mrs. Stagaard died Friday at the St. Francis hospital, Evanston.

Left to mourn her departure are her husband, two sons, William and Charles Press; a sister, Louise Anderson; and four brothers, William, Ernst Martin, and Charles.

by BILL NORTH

The big news of the week around Arlington Heights township high school is the Stork Club Junior which will be held in the AHTHS gym Saturday, March 20. The preparations that have been made to give an authentic night club atmosphere to the dance have been extensive. Tables are reserved for everyone who wants to have an excellent seat for the great floor show that is in production.

Since the 20th is the first day of spring, the Easter bunny will be there to announce the guests. Black orchids will be another startling innovation.

Recently in a poll taken by the Radio Workshop class at Arlington high, the Stork Club Jr. was rated the dance that was most enjoyed throughout the year. This year's Stork Club will be equal and surpass last year's.

Get your gal today and see any of the journalism class for reservations for the Stork Club Jr. The price is $1.75 per couple and $1.25 per stag.

Don't forget to come.

—Y. C.—

We were all happy to hear about the marriage of Joyce Richards and Bruce Bartlett last week. Congratulations. May you have a long and prosperous marriage.

—Y. C.—

Tomorrow, March 12, 22 members of Arlington high will journey to Rockford's East high to compete in the regionals of the Illinois high school speech contest. This is by far the largest number of Arlingtonites ever to go to any speech contest. Here's hoping Arlington does as well as we know it can. Good luck.

—Y. C.—

It was really tough to lose out in the regional contest at Elgin. But Arlington all the way through the season has shown that it could take defeat as well as victory in a sportsman like way. Here is the prediction of all of the Arlington fans. Arlington will take the title in baseball, golf and track. Arlington has what it takes to be a real winner.

—Y. C.—

We see the divorce rate rise and soar
D.T.'s are on the incline
Heart trouble's found more and more
As is Neurosis of the mind.
Kids observe the modern adults
With amazement and more than a little disdain
Grown-ups may crab at the kid's faults
But adult delinquents the stronger remain.
Yes, it's pretty obvious to us Y. C. kids
What to do to put things to an end
Adults! Go out before you are all invalids
And start yourself a place like Ramble Inn.

Cards bow out in regional

by MARVIN PRELLBERG

The Arlington Cardinal Cage team opened and ended regional play on the same day, Wednesday, March 3, when it ran up against a scrappy and hot-shooting St. Edwards' five in the Elgin high school field house and bowed to the Green Waves, who hit the basket throughout the game with unbelievable accuracy, by a 49-40 final count.

Vic Heimsoth, the locals' 6'4" senior center, ended his great career for Arlington, playing his best offensive game, as he hit the hoop 11 times from the field and 3 from the foul line to capture high point honors with 25 tallies.

THE GREEN WAVES stunned Arlington in the first quarter with their uncanny accuracy around the basket, and they took a commanding lead at the quarter end 13-5. Five cagers tallied for St. Edwards in this segment with 65" Carroll Alters leading the way with 4 markers, Jim Paul and John Chapin each notching 3, Don Berna 2, and Chap Wells a free pitch. All 5 of the Cards' points were via free throws, 3 by Orv Schaeffer, and 1 each by John Shanley and Heimsoth.

The Waves poured it on again in the next period to outpoint the locals 13-8 and take a doubling lead at the intermission 26-13. Once again all five boys scored for St. Edwards with Chapin and Paul leading with 4 and 3 points respectively. Heimsoth began his hot spree in this frame with 5 of the 8 Cardinal markers.

THE CARDS snapped back in the next half and outscored the Waves 11-6 in the third period. Once more big Vic Heimsoth was at the head of the Arlington charge by hitting 3 fieldgoals and a charity-toss for 7 points. Junior forward Don Berna led St. Edwards in this frame with 6 tallies. Going into the final period the score read 32-24 with St. Edwards on the top end.

The locals played hard ball in the fourth quarter in a last desperate attempt to overtake Coach Greg True's boys, and although coming within 6 points of the opposition at one point, the rally blanked out and the Elgin school outscored Arlington for the third time 17-16. Heimsoth had a magnificent last quarter as he rolled up 6 baskets for 12 points. Berna and Paul paced the winners last period scoring with 8 and 5 points respectively. This gave St. Edwards the right to meet Elgin in the semi-finals by a 49-40 calculation.

This game climaxed the season for Coach Gene Bell's Cardinals at 16 wins and 9 setbacks.

Cards win frosh tourney for third time

Arlington Heights freshman basketball squad won its third straight frosh tourney in a row Saturday when they outscored Warren and Lake Forest in the four-team event. The Cardinals looked impressive as they mauled Warren, 41-13, and doubled Lake Forest, 40-20.

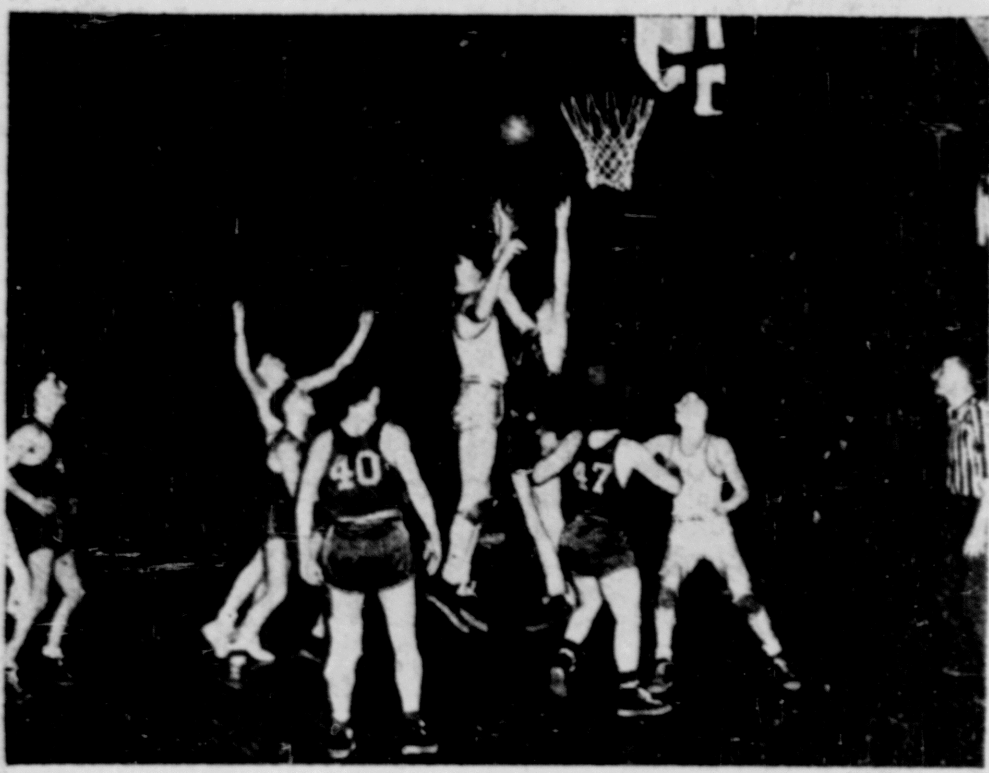

Nine o'clock drawing pitted Heights against Warren in the opener with Lake Forest to test Libertyville. Arlington grabbed an early lead to head their opponents at the half, 20-4. With Schwartz leading the way, the locals extended their lead, 16-6, the third frame, then gave up for the subs for final victory. Schwartz notched ten baskets.

LAKE FOREST led all the way against Libertyville, but were scared the last segment, finally winning, 22-20. The Forsters led, 7-4, 14-10, and 18-13 at the quarters, until a Libertyville rally of seven points almost took the game. Griffin was high for the winners with nine, while Tonkin had 11 for the losers.

In the consolation contest Libertyville led at intermission, 17-9 and went on to win, 38-19. A 11-2 spurt the next frame put the game on ice with Eiserman and Tonkin gaining ten and nine points, respectively. Laurson led Warren with five buckets.

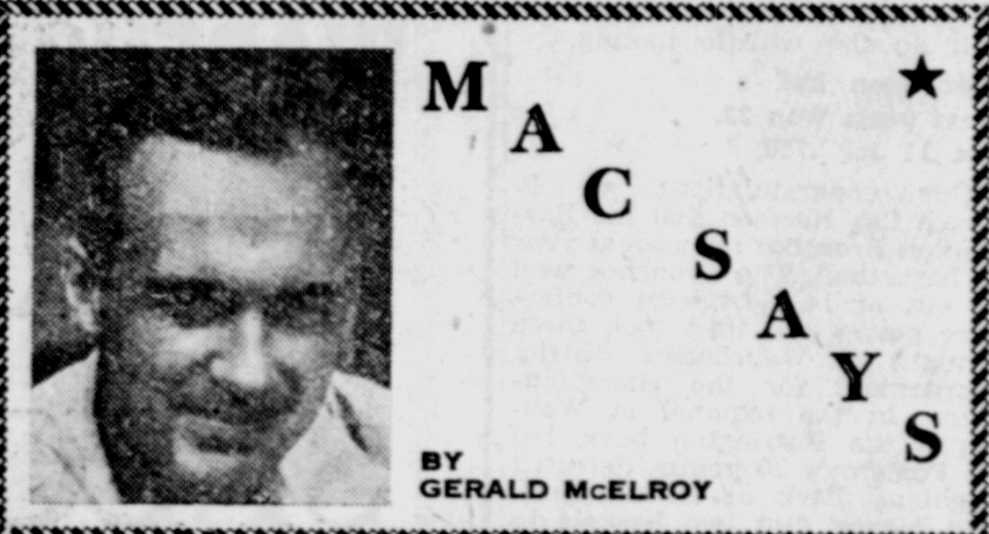

The championship contest saw the Heights boys hitting the hoop at a steady pace of ten, ten, 11 and nine tallies. Halftime score was 20-7. Roche and Schwartz notched 14 and 12 points for Arlington, with Nelson and Thurm garnering ten and eight for Lake Forest.

The shooting in the state regional tournaments is over and many of the favorites over the state are casualties and out of the picture. Locally two of the big upsets were the Niles, 42-35, win over Waukegan in the opening game of the regional. The other was Elgin's surprise win over Dundee 46-35, in the finals at Elgin.

Waukegan rated sixth in the state had lost only one game all year and by one point in early December. Dundee's only prior loss this year was a 25-24 defeat at Waukegan. As a result New Trier advanced to the Waukegan sectional from the regional at that place after finishing second in the suburban league. New Trier had lost twice to Waukegan and barely nosed out Evanston, 32-31, in the regional final.

Elgin scouted Dundee 20 times and then upset them in regional Elgin has a disappointing season in the Big Eight, winning but one-third of their games. Elgin has a junior team and has hit their stride at tournament time. Their big 225 pound six foot seven center, Peterson, is the big reason they were able to top Dundee. One of the Elgin assistant coaches scouted Dundee in 20 games this season just to get information in the event they met Dundee in the tournament.

Expect LaGrange to go to state

LaGrange and Glenbard won their respective tournaments as expected and go to the Waukegan regional. Thursday we find LaGrange playing New Trier, while Wednesday Elgin met Glenbard. The final to determine who joins the "Sweet Sixteen" at Champaign will be played Friday. We rather expect LaGrange to win but most of our other tournament picks have turned sour and this one may also, with Elgin winning.

Bisons bring credit to N. W. conference

Bensenville made a great showing for the Northwest conference in the Glenbard regional. The Bisons played without their star forward, Steffensen, who had averaged 11 points a game for the season, yet beat Downers Grove and Lake Forest before losing to tough Glenbard in the final, 61-39. Keller, junior guard, almost matched Thollander's scoring in the tournament to help in part to make up for the missing Steffensen. It was a great year for

Dick Bokelmann to start spring training at Daytona Beach

Dick Bokelmann of Arlington Heights will leave Thursday for Daytona Beach, Florida, where he will go into spring training with the Rochester, N. Y., baseball club of the International league.

Dick, a graduate of Arlington Heights high school and Northwestern university, where he captained the baseball team in his senior year, starred as a pitcher for three years, and was one of the leading pitchers of the Big Nine conference, signed with the St. Louis Cardinals last July.

After signing with the Cardinals he was assigned to their Rochester club and was farmed out to the Fresno club of the California league, where he pitched winning ball. He was recalled by Rochester last fall.

NE baseball plans five team card in April

Paddock Publications are this week publishing the official Northeast conference baseball schedule with at least four non-conference games still to be scheduled for Arlington's squad. The Cards and Niles tied for the crown last year.

Additional games for the Heights boys still to be slated include one each with Maine and Elgin, and two with Barrington. District play will occur the week of May 10-15.

Globetrotters at Stadium again

The famed Harlem Globetrotters have been signed to play in the Chicago Stadium March 21, it was announced by Stadium officials. The Globetrotters who drew 17,853 fans against the Minneapolis Lakers last February 19th, have been paired against the New York Celtics. Johnny Lujack, former football and basketball star at the University of Notre Dame has signed to play with the Celtics and will be in the line-up against the Trotters.

The Globetrotter-New York Celtics clash will be part of a triple-header program that will feature the Chicago Stags against the St. Louis Bombers in a regular Basketball Association of America league game. The third game will pair the Kansas City Stars against the Hawaiian All-Stars.

Faculty - 'A' club cage classic at Heights Tuesday

The third annual Arlington Heights high school faculty 'A' club "cage classic" is slated for Tuesday night, March 16, in the local gymnasium with instructors and coaches attempt to show the boys how basketball should be played.

Athletic awards at Arlington high are purchased through efforts of the A club and the annual basketball game raises funds for that purpose.

FACULTY members held a secret practice Tuesday night and "looked great" according to athletic director Grace. "Costumes this year will be better than ever," continued Grace, with the admonition "they ain't seed nuttin yet". Preliminary to the game will be a contest between two GAA teams, including stars of the various girls' cage squads at the local school.

Game time is 7:15 for the preliminary while the feature attraction is slated for 8:30.

by MARVIN PRELLBERG

Coach George Gibson's Arlington Junior Varsity started off like a house-a-fire with eight straight wins only to lose five of its next eight contests, but still came out with a 15 and 5 record for the season. The Junior Cards tied for second place in the conference with Libertyville behind Niles, holding a 10-4 record.

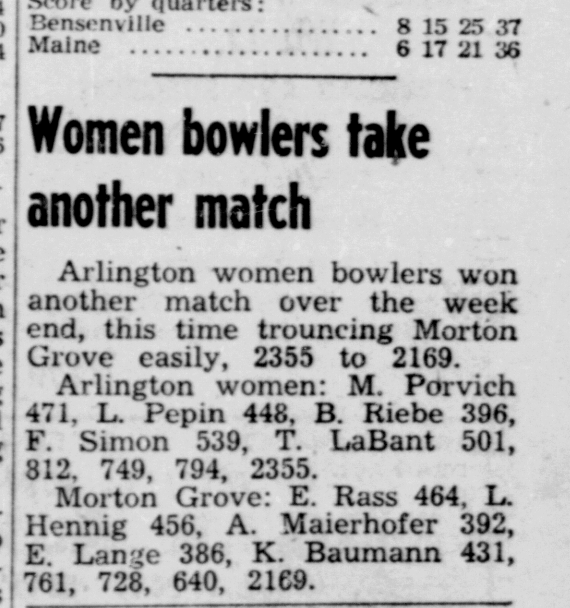

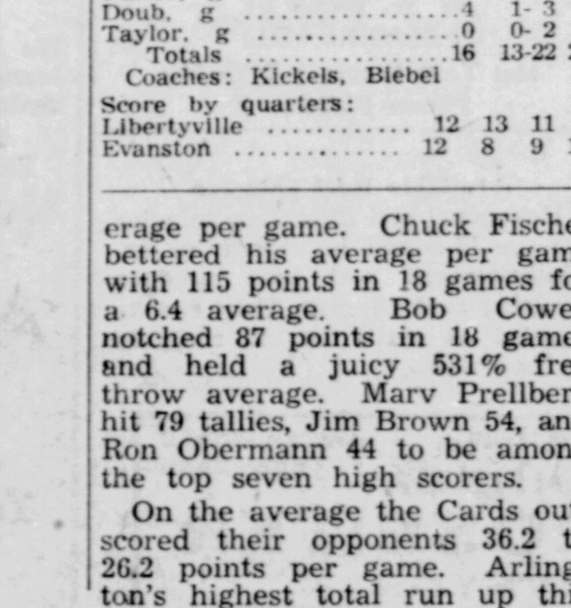

The locals downed Niles, Warren, Lake Forest, Palatine, Crystal Lake, Leyden, Barrington, and Woodstock all in succession, but dropped their next contest to Libertyville. Warren fell for the second time, but Niles nipped Arlington, 45-37. The Cards nosed out Maine, whipped Lake Forest, but then hit a cold streak and dropped three in a row to Belvidere, Crystal Lake and Leyden. Belvidere and Leyden both were lost in an overtime period. Barrington, Woodstock, and Libertyville went down before the Cards, and the Frosh-Soph took the measure of Palatine in the final game, 29-20.

THE CARDS might have pulled a few of those games out of the loss columns if they would have been able to connect from the free throw line, but the locals made just 152 free shots out of 334 for a 45.5% average. Center Eugene Busse led Arlington in point getting by racking up 132 tallies in eleven games for a 12 point average. Eugene failed to play in seven contests because of the mumps, and that, too, is another reason why Arlington was not higher in the conference standings. His 20 points at Belvidere were high for a single game on the junior squad.

PAUL ROCHE, freshman guard, had the next highest number of points with 117 markers in 20 games for a 5.9 average per game.

REG'AR FELLERS

Niles, Woodstock head list of honored fives

by G. A. MCELROY, Sports Ed.

Five Northeast conference schools cooperated with Paddock Publications sports department in helping select an all league cage team for the 1947-48 season. Competition in the league was so keen and ability of individual players so even that an all conference team is more difficult than usual to select. On a seven man first team, Niles, league champs, and Woodstock each placed two men. Top vote getters among players and coaches were Comstock, outstanding Niles guard; Heimsoth, Arlington center and Rerucha, flashy Leyden forward, who missed the final games due to an injury.

Helm of Woodstock led the conference scoring and with Siegel, Niles star play maker, and Rerucha get the forward positions. Bob Nelson, right behind team mate Helm of Woodstock in scoring; and Bornell, a repeat all league guard from Libertyville, team with Comstock of Niles at guards. This outfit has scoring punch and all round class in ball handling and defensive playing.

Outstanding on the second team in the opinion of coaches were Lennie Anders of Lake Forest at forward and Gene Shook, brilliant Woodstock junior, at guard. Leyden players picked Shook and Comstock as the best boys in the league. Other second team selections and those rated honorable mention are about on a par but those getting the second team berths were mentioned more frequently in the voting.

Bisons bow out in finals to Glenbard, 61-39

Bensenville's Bisons bowed out of tournament competition Friday night in the Glenbard regional when they fell before the host school's powerful five, 61-39. At that the locals scored more points against the favorites than any other team in the meet.

Coach Meneguier's squad performed creditably the first nights of the tourney in running over Downers Grove and beating Maine, 37-36. That Maine contest was a thriller Thursday night as the Bisons grabbed victory in final seconds after a tight ball game all the way through.

THE LOCALS led at the quarter, 8-6, then fell behind at intermission, 17-15. Bensenville held a four point advantage going into the home stretch, but were passed the final period, only to pull the game from the fire in the last seconds.

It was a team victory for the locals in the Maine game, with five boys entering the scoring column. Olson of Maine led his mates with eight baskets, and was the biggest hurdle to Bensenville's hopes.

FINALS Friday night for the Northwest conference champions saw Bensenville pitted against just too tough opposition.

Thollander led the way at the hoop with 13 points, while Keller brought up the slack of Steffensen's absence with 11 tallies. Halftime score was fairly close, but the Cards rolled on to victory and the regional championship the second half.

Runners galore to compete next week in Relays

David B. Bolen, University of Colorado star last year and the Rock Mountain area's strongest Olympic tuneup campaign as a 600-yard contestant in the 12th Chicago Daily News relays, Mar. 20, at the Chicago Stadium.

The 23-year-old middle distance runner was the third to file his relays entry with the Daily News. With it came a note from Frank Potts, Colorado coach, that promises trouble for the National 400-meters and 440-yards champion, Herb McKenley, this season.

"Bolen is a great runner," Potts declared, "and would be worth having there for a race with anyone... McKenley, we hope."

McKenley, the Jamaican who starred for the University of Illinois last year and in '46, was the only runner to whip Bolen last year. He did it in the 440-yard run of the NCAA championships, and again in the 400-meter run of the National AAU championships.

Relays' 600-yard champion in 1946, the ex-Illini flash is expected to return to the relays this year with an eye to making amends for his dismal third-place showing last year.

Bill Martinson, one of the greatest sprinters to come out of Texas, will also invade the Stadium for the relays.

The former Baylor university bullet filed his relays entry today through Ralph M. Higgins, Oklahoma A&M coach. A transfer student at the Aggie school, he is ineligible for collegiate competition but is training under Higgins with an eye to making the U. S. Olympic team.

"Among Martinson's achievements are a .095 clocking for the 100-yard dash; a deadheat with National Champion Mel Patton of Southern California at the same distance; and three victories over Texas' great Charley Parker in four encounters.

He holds the world's record for the 150-yard dash, and has tied the world's standard of .051 for the 50- and .061 for the 60. Bolen will compete in the Frank Hill 600-yard run.

Under the capable leadership of Coach Gene Bell, who hails from Oklahoma A & M, the Arlington Cardinals ripped through a tough 1947-1948 cage schedule in good fashion and came out with a final record of 16 wins against 9 losses.

The locals, who were not given too high a rating at the beginning of the year, plowed through a 14 game Conference schedule with 10 wins and 4 setbacks, which was good enough for second place behind the Niles Trojans.

The Cards had just two lettermen back from the "46" squad, Vic Heimsoth and Bill Robinson, but several good boys moved up from the Junior Varsity of the previous year to give Coach Bell a good nucleus on which to work.

THE LOCALS dropped their opening game to Niles in a 29-23 decision. They swept past Warren and Lake Forest in succession, and then were upset by Palatine 27-24. After mauling Crystal Lake, the local cagers grabbed second place in the Palatine and LaGrange tourneys, losing to Bensenville and highly touted LaGrange in the finals.

Their return to conference competition was a loss to Leyden. Next the Cards nipped Barrington, but lost another conference tilt to Woodstock, 28-26. January 27 Arlington traveled to Libertyville and rolled up its season high, 59-48. Warren was its next victim, Bill Robinson's last second basket beat Niles, and Maine and Lake Forest fell in succession to the Cardinal regime. In the last eight games the locals fell to Belvidere, Leyden, and St. Edwards in the Regional. Their victims were Crystal Lake, Barrington, Woodstock in a thriller, Libertyville, and Palatine.

VIC HEIMSOOTH, 6'4" pivot man, led the Cards in offensive play with 265 points. He tied for second in the Conference scoring race with Bruener of Crystal Lake totaling 141 points. Heimsooth played in twenty-five games scoring 101 fieldgoals and 63 freethrows for a 10.6 per game average. Vic also had the best hitting 63 out of 97 attempts for freethrow percentage of the team a 64.9 per cent.

Orv Schaeffer, hot shooting Junior forward, was the next high point getter with 197 points in twenty-three games for an 8.7 points per game average. Orv also was among the top six in the Northeast scoring column with 130 points.

Bill Robinson, stellar Junior guard, played third high with 161 points in 25 contests for a 6.4 point average per game, including 97 points in Conference competition. Robinson was a great defensive player, and can be remembered as the one who held Barrington's high scoring Pomeroy to no points in one game and one field goal in a second.

Wally Beckman with 92 points, Phil Roche with 63, and John Shanley with 62 sums up Arlington's high scorers for the season. NEXT SEASON the locals have Gordon Busse, Lloyd Meyer, Bill Robinson, Orv Schaeffer, Tom Stockdale, and Phil Theis all returning from this year's varsity squad, plus plenty of good material moving up from the Junior Varsity.

Des Plaines may have new sewer

The City council recently "swept the leaves off" the road that leads to a sanitary relief sewer for Des Plaines. The question of whether or not the city will get a relief sewer was not answered entirely by the Council. It will have to be answered by the people—those who will have to pay for the improvement at some later date.

The Council authorized a Chicago bond firm to draw up and float the bonds that will provide the city with about 1 million dollars to construct and maintain the project. Property owners of this city will pay off these bonds with a monthly rent fee over a period of 30 or 40 years.

Sentinels of Health
Don't Neglect Them!
Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the blood stream free of an excess of toxic impurities. The act of living—life itself—constantly produces waste matter the kidneys must remove from the blood if good health is to endure. When the kidneys fail to function Nature intended, there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel tired, nervous, all worn out.

Frequent, scanty or burning passages are sometimes further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbance. The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess poisonous body waste. Use Doan's Pills. They have had more than forty years of public approval. Are endorsed the country over. Insist on Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.

Arlington tallied 886 points for the season, compared to their opponents' 778, an average of 35.4-31.1.

The Heights boys concluded play with a 10-4 conference slate, and a 16-9 overall picture.

Mac Says

In a Big Nine indoor meet by one man, Lloyd Duff of Ohio.

Duff, who had never won a first in a big meet, took the jump, won the high hurdles to break the American indoor record, and took thirds in the low hurdles and pole vault for a total of 16 points. Loss of four track stars of national championship caliber due to ineligibility has dropped Illinois from the top of the Big Nine and from contention for the national championship which they won the last two years.

Huffman of Leyden on championship college team

Saw a picture in the Des Moines Register this past week of the Dubuque University basketball team, undefeated champion of the Iowa conference. On the team was William Huffman, a freshman from Leyden High of Franklin Park, one of our all-Northeast conference picks of last season.

No standout team in state tourney this year

It is the consensus of opinion among the so-called sports experts of the state that the caliber of basketball being played this year in Illinois is much below the usual standard. This being the case, one can look for more upsets, and there have been plenty thus far in the tournament series. There are few teams good enough to be rated above the others in the state. The fall of three of the first six ranking teams in the state in the regionals is proof of this fact.

If one were to pick teams most likely to win the state they would naturally select Collinsville and Pekin, the pair who have ranked one-two most of the season. They may do it, but it seems to us that this is the year for a dark horse to come through. It might be Pinckneyville. Then again it might be any one of a half dozen others. At this point any of them might be beaten in the sectional so why do any predicting.

Next week, Thursday, the state tourney opens and it should be an interesting one for anything can happen and does in this crazy season.

Stags host to New York Saturday

The Chicago Stags face a grueling three game road trip before returning to the Chicago Stadium Saturday night, March 13, to face the New York Knickerbockers. The Toledo Jeeps and Tri-City Blackhawks will play a National Basketball league game scheduled to start at 8:00 p. m. to complete the doubleheader attraction.

On Tuesday, March 9, the Stags played the Philadelphia Warriors and then moved to Washington and Baltimore on successive nights to complete the last eastern swing of the season. If the Stags can turn back both Washington and Baltimore they will be virtually assured of a play-off position and a chance to repeat as champions in the western division of the league.

Seek formation of area baseball setup for suburbs

Formation of a baseball league that will represent the best baseball talent of the western and northwestern portion of Cook county and all of DuPage county is the announced aim of the River Grove Nationals Athletic Club of River Grove.

Pointing to the possibilities of the formation of such a league, Chairman Irwin Kossack stated, "For the past twenty years our organization, which has a membership of over 150, has supported a top-notch baseball team and have played in all types of competition. Prior to the war, the Tri-County league was very active, but hostilities forced abandonment of the league. Our organization managed to support a suitable team even during the war years, and played in a league which embraced all parts of Chicago proper. However, now with the youth back in civilian sports again, sports-minded enthusiasts and organizations throughout this territory should band together to form a league in the suburbs which would afford every team an opportunity to compete with each other within a regular schedule."

Representatives of baseball teams or organizations sponsoring baseball teams interested in forming such a league are asked to contact Mr. Kossack at 2640 Erie Street, River Grove, Illinois, or call Gladstone 3-5822.

Niles falls to New Trier in regional meet

by Bill Neuson
The New Trier Terriers, victor over Zion-Benton in the first Round, eliminated the Niles Trojans 49 to 37 in the semi-finals of the Waukegan Regional on Thursday night March 4 at Waukegan.

The Terriers rebounded strong off both backboards, besides scoring. The Trojans couldn't hit their shots like they did against Waukegan, for they made only 13 baskets out of 61 attempts.

Forward Moore and Center Gompert of New Trier shared scoring honors with 14 points each. Captain Howard Siegel was high scorer for the Men of Troy with 10 points on five baskets.

Forward Moore's free throw put the Terriers in the lead for the remainder of the game after the score was deadlocked 2-2 in the first minutes of play.

THE TROJANS came within one point of New Trier, 11 to 12, in the opening minute of the second quarter after the Terriers led 12 to nine at the end of the first quarter. The 'Green Wave' then drew away from the Trojans with a barrage of baskets to lead 27 to 16 at half time intermission.

The Trojans gained a point on the Terriers in the third quarter. The Trojans came within six points of New Trier early in the fourth quarter but the Terriers pulled away.

Arlington boxers lose to Fox Lake

by SUBURBAN SPORTING NEWS SERVICE.
Though the Arlington Heights Boys' Boxing Club won only two of the ten bouts when they met Fox Lake last Friday, they walked away with an unofficial championship, an exhibition of beautiful boxing, and some very full tumblers.

With a stance not unlike that of 'Old John L. himself', Francis Lyons made his third win with a victory over S. Kuntz of Fox Lake. Going an extra round, the two boxers drew raves from the gallery. Kuntz is the official champion of the Lake Region Conference.

Richard Hauff of Arlington Heights provided the other victory with a show of scientific boxing and good sportsmanship.

Develop tests to measure intelligence of junior

All parents will acknowledge that their baby is brilliant for his infant age, but that's pride and guesswork only. The psychologists, however, prefer scientific confirmation, and several at Northwestern university now have verified a formula for finding out just how smart the baby is.

A revised test, believed to be the most accurate to date for the measurement of infant intelligence, has been developed by A. R. Gilliland, professor of psychology.

The Gilliland test consists of a total of 40 items, which are administered by trained examiners in various groupings. There are 15 items in the four-week test; 19 in the eight-week test; and 19 in the twelve-week test. Several of the tests in the four-week examination are repeated in later lists. In practice, all parts are generally given to each child, and tentative norms developed for each age group, as well as on the whole test.

Following are some of the items in the list of 40 included in the Gilliland test. The examiner marks the baby's chart according to whether the infant compensated his head when pulled to a sitting position; closes his fingers around a rattle; blinks or averts his eyes when subjected to a ray of light; focuses on an object (metal tape); makes searching head movements (rattle) follows tape horizontally, vertically, and circularly; investigates scrap of paper placed on face; reacts to ringing doorbell; babbles; follows a moving person; feels an object (cardboard); changes expression on seeing rabbit mask looks to source of sound (rattle); and diminishes activity on hearing music (box).

An example of the way the test operates is this: in early tests, an infant often will not fixate on the tape. Later, he will almost do so, but can only stare at it. Then he will follow it when it is swung parallel to the eyes. At about 6 or 8 weeks of age, he will follow the tape when it is swung in the vertical direction. Finally, he will follow it when it is swung in a circle. There is a great variation, however, in what babies will be at a given age, and this difference is believed to indicate the potential intelligence of the child.

Pioneer residents of Lombard reconciled themselves last week to the loss of an early village landmark when workers from the Milwaukee Iron and Steel company applied acetylene torches to the old water tower, which stands in the rear of the fire station on East St. Charles road, as the first step in reducing it to a scrap heap.

Sold a year and a half ago, the tower has no value to the new owner except for the salvaged material it contains. Now badly deteriorated, its function of supplying pressure has been taken over by the new water tank on the south side.

Itasca woman's doll hobby raises funds for new church

It is not only the young girl who enjoys playing with dolls. Mrs. Elmer H. Franzen, of Itasca, is a doll hobbyist who finds just as much pleasure in the dolls in her collection as does the young miss who entertains her own doll family.

Since many people in this area enjoyed a recent exhibit of Mrs. Franzen's dolls, a staff reporter and photographer of Paddock Publications was assigned to tell readers about the collection. While there she snapped the accompanying picture.

Ed. note.
by HELEN CHRISON

"There is a story connected with each doll in my collection," Mrs. Elmer H. Franzen stated as she described her hobby. "I have never gone out to buy one just to add to the size of the doll family."

"That's why I have never counted or stated the number of dolls I possess."

Uncounted Gallery

Since she acquired the first doll for her collection in 1924, an Alaskan figure, she and her daughter Audrey have added to the doll gallery until now it includes figures illustrating incidents in American history, dolls illustrating periodical fashions, foreign dolls, antique dolls, story-book characters, a rag doll and even a replica of Charlie McCarthy, "which probably will be a collector's item fifty years from now."

Sentiment and Profit

This sentimental hobby that was begun twenty-four years ago recently has developed into a profitable avocation for Mrs. Franzen.

Last week she exhibited the dolls at her home to the public for the benefit of a building fund for a new Presbyterian church in the community. More than eighty persons visited the doll show which netted approximately $80 for the church project.

On Friday, March 5, 100 school children from the Itasca public school and St. Luke's Lutheran school saw the dolls, which Mrs. Franzen had placed in groups throughout the house. The children came partly for "painless education" reasons and partly just to be entertained.

A "Modern" Charlie

Their favorite modern doll was Charlie McCarthy. "I expected this," Mrs. Franzen explained, "because the children are more familiar with 'Charlie' than they are with the period dolls of the past."

Teacher has red hair

However, the youngsters and even the adults who viewed the exhibit liked a school teacher doll, carved from wood, which Mrs. Franzen acquired in 1942. In the above picture the school marm is shown third from the left on the mantelpiece.

Teacher has carrot-red hair which she wears in a top-knot. A yellow pencil is pushed through her hair, and silver-framed spectacles are perched on the end of her nose. Her costume, complete with high-necked blouse and cameo brooch, was copied from pictures of teacher fashions in early Chicago.

"The children studied teacher very closely," Mrs. Franzen stated. "They noticed that the spectacles actually had glass in the frames and one little boy squealed, 'Look, the teacher bites her fingernails, too!'"

"Teach" was carved and dressed by a Chicago woman who became one of Mrs. Franzen's friends when the two were charter members in 1937 at the organization of the Chicago chapter of the National Doll and Toy Collectors club.

Chicago Photog

The first doll on the left in the accompanying picture illustrates a woman's fashion in the 1880's. She was purchased in 1945 at a costume exhibit of dolls at the Marshall Field store.

"Some club members who have come to see the dolls have remarked about the authenticity of the white 'drawers' which the doll wears," the collector remarked.

Ram Allah

The large figure in the center is a Palestine doll, the clothes for which were made by Nomeh Shalila, an Arab woman living in Ram Allah, 12 miles from Jerusalem. The doll's costume, a replica of the dress worn by Ram Allah women, is made of hand-woven linen, and the red hand embroidery consists of patterns symbolic of something in the manner of living of the villagers.

The symbols which decorate the skirt, for instance, represent the cauliflower, sacred vegetable in the village.

The hand-made outfit was sent to Mrs. Franzen in 1940 by a former school mate who was teaching at a boys' school in Ram Allah. Unable to find a suitable doll for the costume, Mrs. Franzen made one from crinoline and unbleached muslin which she lacquered and stuffed with kapoc. The doll, which stands 19 inches high, has human hair, too — Mrs. Franzen's.

Thee and Thou

The pair of Quaker dolls, which are figures five and six on the mantelpiece in the picture, were made and dressed by a Chicago woman, also. Mrs. Franzen acquired them a month ago, so they are her newest additions.

"The Quaker dolls have special sentimental meaning for me," she said, "since I was raised in the Quaker faith."

The Quaker bonnet and shawl, which Mrs. Franzen is wearing in the picture, belonged to her great grandmother, who was a Pennsylvania Quaker minister, character in the book "Chief Se- and serve as backdrops for the attic" by Eva Greenslet Anderson. The princess became a part of the collection in 1942. Squatting on the book in the of the collection in 1942. reproduction of an Indian above picture is Princess Angel-your NEW telephone directory is at your service!

We have made it as accurate and complete as we know how. It will serve you best if you follow these five suggestions:

1. Discard your old directory. Turn it in for waste paper if it hasn't already been collected.
2. Check your memo list of frequently called numbers against the new directory to be sure they're right.
3. Look in the new directory for any number you're not sure of. That way, you'll avoid mistakes and wrong numbers.
4. Save time by finding the number in the directory instead of calling Information.
5. Use the "Classified" section (the yellow pages in most directories) when you want products, services or professional help.

Teachers meet March 14

The sixth regular meeting for this school year of the Cook County Teachers association will be held in the association auditorium Saturday, March 14, at 10:30 a. m. An address will be given by the Hon. Francis G. Blair, state superintendent of public instruction, on "The Country School and its Work."

Assistant Peter A. Downey will address the teachers on "Some Essentials that Every Pupil Should Get from his Language Study." A. F. Nightingale, county superintendent, urges the teachers of the rural schools to attend all sessions.

Men warned to leave hats home

W. H. Koebelman, Bensenville, warns gentlemen frequenting Mr. Languth's dance hall, better known as Zeigeburg, to leave their new stiff hats at home next time they go. It seems to be the custom to furnish amusements for the crowd by using such hats as footballs.

Tales of the STREET

BY L. C. HART

SKUNKS ARE OUT

The new weather prophet unearthed by Ed Duenn of Paddock Publications is pointing the way for an early spring.

Yes, the skunks are out and running. Louis Friese, just back from a motor trip to Texas, says he saw 20 or 30 dead skunks that had been killed by autos.

And George Schroeder reports that the little striped animal also is out here and is scampering all over the fields.

GARDEN TALK

And with spring really on the way at last, it's time to think of gardening. The Palatine Community club will hear C. A. Hughes, Cook county farm adviser, talk on fruit and vegetable gardens at the next meeting of the club Monday, April 5, at the school.

Hughes is an expert and his talk should be good listening.

SAP IS UP

The sap is up, which is another good sign that spring is on the way.

It started up those balmy days that melted the January first snow. The change to a brighter color in the willows shows that the sap really is on the move, too.

GOP HEADQUARTERS

Eddie Haseman brings back this story about Otto Gaare from down in Arizona.

It seems that when Otto first went down there he wanted to get acquainted with the big shots so he went to town and asked where the Republican headquarters were.

He was told they were in a curio shop down the street so Otto went there and introduced himself, saying, "I understand this is the Republican headquarters."

"Are you a Republican?" asked the owner of the shop. When Otto said he was, the man extended his hand in cordial greeting. "Shake," he said, "that makes two of us down here."

ROUGH TRIP

By the way, Eddie had a rough trip back from the Southland, running into snow, sleet, rain and the worst fogs he ever saw. In Oklahoma the state highways are fine and all the country roads are awful.

Eddie says this is because the state was democratic and most of the county offices are held by republicans. Eddie advised them to vote democratic on the county ticket to get some state money. Then Eddie could spend his winters down there building those roads.

Now if that isn't an eye to business, we don't know what is.

DISAPPOINTED BIRDS

The early birds that made their appearance recently were a sad and disillusioned group when the heavy snow came once more. Bird feeding grounds were covered with snow, and food was scarce.

People who kept their feeding grounds going after the storm were rewarded by the number of birds that took advantage of the friendly handouts.

WELL, WELL

Some Aladdin must have rubbed a lamp and produced Palatine's sidewalk snow plow.

At any rate, after hearing various excuses all winter as to why it wasn't on the job, all of a sudden, after the heaviest snow fall of the winter, it appeared on the job.

Well, well, welcome to the sidewalk plow—better late than never, especially when it's in time for the biggest storm of the season.

DELAYED SPRING

That big March 1 snowstorm upset the plans of lots of people who were planning an early spring start in their gardens.

However, maybe if we get a little balmy weather and south winds after this snow is gone, the landscape layout will look more favorable for all the early birds, both human and feathered.

VALUATIONS

The state department of revenue again has boosted Cook county property valuation.

Last year the state increased Assessor John S. Clark's figures by multiplying them by 1.59; this year Clark's figures must be nearer the 100 per cent valuation in the opinion of the state because the 1947 tax figures as set by the county assessor are only multiplied by 1.26.

Work on the tax bills is progressing as rapidly as possible; latest report is that they will be out probably around May 1, instead of June 1, as was the opinion a few weeks ago.

At any rate, the bills probably will be out as early as anyone wants to see them and they will be higher, plenty higher.

So hold your hat when you see those bills.

It Happened Here

The Windows

"The meetinghouse windows were blank and bare," No saints nor angels were blazoned there

The little square panes were not stained glass

But across them leaf shadows would lightly pass,

Or the stark grey branches wove exquisite lace

Such as the humble Madonna's altar might grace;

Wings beating upward were birds in flight

Or pinions of angels, edged with pure light.

The trees' supple boughs made an arch or a harp,

And the red headed woodpecker clung to the bark;

In his black and white gown, his red cockade,

A figure for stained glass windows he made.

So dreamed a child in the hard wooden pew.

Whose lowly Church no mitre nor prelate kneels

No sense, no vestments nor candles at need,

But beauty was ever her passion, her creed.

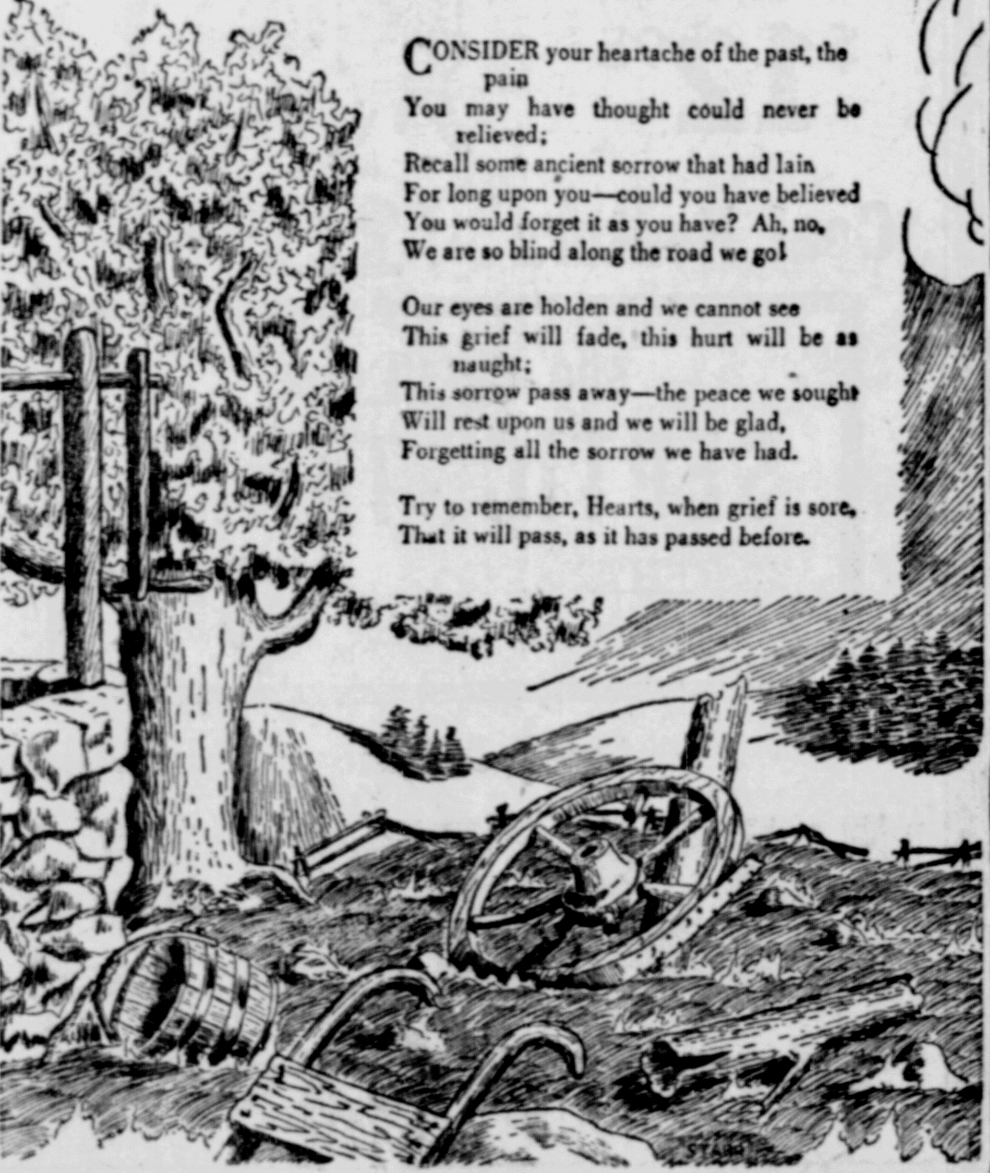

—S'AMUSER.

In the future

New 16-foot plastic "sportabout" boat is said to be so light in weight that it requires only one-third the normal engine horsepower necessary for given motorboat speeds. . . . The Western Pine Association has developed a new plastic-resin sealer which makes possible the use of lower cost lumber for outdoor siding. . . . A 10-cent cough-drop chewing gum is being tested in western retail stores. . . . Good news for southpaw savers. . . . A left-handed checkbook specially designed for the convenience of fork-handed depositors. . . . Designed to cut roof erection costs by one-fifth to one-half, new roof fasteners which can be applied from the roof surface, eliminating the need for expensive scaffolding, are being introduced by a Pennsylvania manufacturer. . . . Sandwich panels of metal, plywood, resin-treated heavy gauge paper and veneers are being tested for possible application in housing construction. . . . Finer atomization makes possible smoother, higher-gloss finishes through use of a new paint spray gun recently announced. . . . A new pocket-bomb can be clipped in the coat pocket like a fountain pen.

Try to Remember

Grace Noll Crowell

Consider your heartache of the past, the pain You may have thought could never be relieved; Recall some ancient sorrow that had lain For long upon you—could you have believed You would forget it as you have? Ah, no, We are so blind along the road we go!

Our eyes are hidden and we cannot see This grief will fade, this hurt will be as naught; This sorrow pass away—the peace we sought Will rest upon us and we will be glad, Forgetting all the sorrow we have had.

Try to remember, Hearts, when grief is sore, That it will pass, as it has passed before.

PARKING METERS

Much has been written about Palatine streets and parking and parking meters. We appreciate the picture of our main street after snow had been removed. We should have another picture showing only a narrow, one lane open to carry the heavy traffic on our main two thoroughfares one hour later. This is it most of the time.

Parallel parking and meters, would open these streets as they should be. Palatine is not only growing, but already well grown. Who can stop to shop, penny or no penny, when there is no place open?

Mr. Hart should stop his objections to the meters and not refer to these necessities that will provide a service much needed, as "armless bandits." I for one, will welcome them.

Civic Minded, Palatine.

SATURDAY NIGHT SHOPPING

I'm wondering if those who are all for keeping the stores open on Saturday night would be so eager if they had ever spent their Saturday nights working in one.

Seems to me we can do our shopping for a new hat on Thursday night or Saturday afternoon with less inconvenience to us than is the imposition on the clerk who must wait around for us to come in on Saturday night, while his family waits for him to come home for an all too short week end.

Did you ever want to go "home" for a visit and were unable to do so because you worked too late on Saturday and didn't feel like driving 100 miles each way for Sunday dinner? I'm all for closing the stores earlier on Saturday than any other day because these people

PALATINE SNOWSTORM

Palatine's businessmen along Slade street enjoyed last week's snow storm more than if the town had staged a public hanging of their mother-in-laws.

It seems as though there is some kind of a Palatine ordinance prohibiting the parking of a car in such a fashion as to interfere with the operation of the snow plow. A good ordinance, we think, if the Marsonians weren't the only ones to know about it.

Nevertheless, the aforementioned businessmen sat in their comfortably warm stores and watched the officer of the day write out arrest tickets until he had writer's cramp. Their greatest glee came when a victim happened to know them through no fault of his own.

One of the victims, Dr. Koch, seemed to give them special joy. In fact, when he discovered the ticket on his car they did him the special honor to leave their comfortable hovels for the cool outside air to give him the most tumultuous greeting of laughter ever heard in Palatine.

If horns and piked tails are found on Slade street it is just because "the boys" lost their winter coats when they stepped out to laugh.

We don't like to preach sermons, or make suggestions, but if the same fellows who thought of putting a bell or whistle on the plow to warn motorists that their cars were parked in the path of the plow, the things would be easier, arrests less, and goodwill more.

Bits o' business

The cigarette industry, now a $4 billion per year business and looking forward to an all-time peak, will spend more money advertising in 1948 than in 1947. . . . More than 56 leading hat manufacturers combined efforts to design a New Look in men's hats, called the Scoop, a hat with smaller proportions and shape. . . . Farm incomes are still at or near boom levels despite the grain price slide. . . . Plans of the government to set up stockpiles of metals and materials have been held up to date because of the need for filling heavy current requirements of private industry. . . . Total sales of 680 manufacturers reached the all-time high of $1 billion last year. . . . Small town merchants lose about 33 per cent of their potential sales by failure to carry out sustained advertising and selling campaigns in their local newspapers, a recent survey points out. . . . A chance meeting of two Army Air Force engineers started a company which is today building the first vending machine to purvey a hot cup of coffee for five cents. The company, which began as a shoestring operation, is selling all the vending machines it can manufacture in its Philadelphia plant.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

by LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

A woman in love is hard to understand. Take Mazie for instance. Mazie was about the most sensible girl I ever knew until she fell in love. And the fellow she fell for!

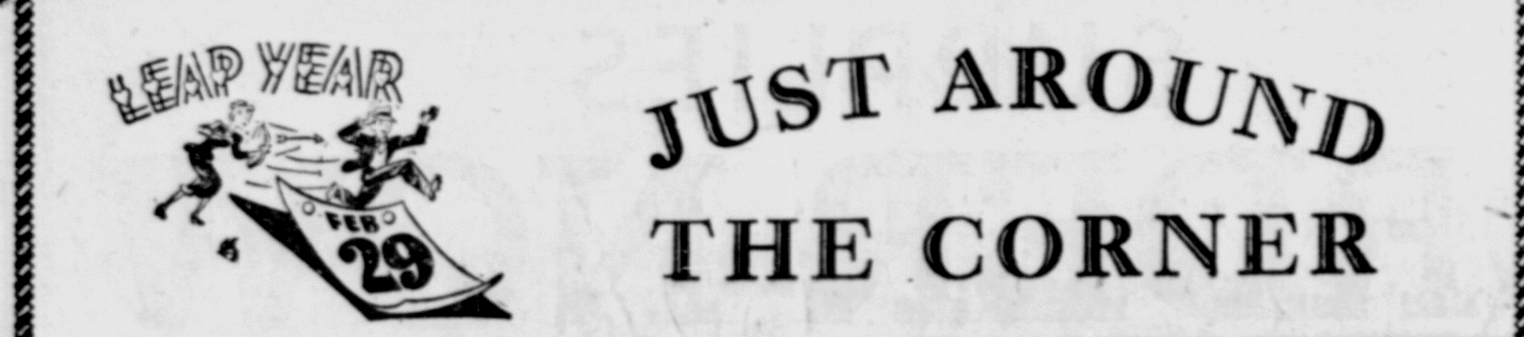

He is one of those fellows that the psychiatrists call a projectionist (italics). Nothing that he does is ever wrong. You and I make mistakes and we are willing to admit, as often as not, that our mistakes are a result of carelessness or poor judgment. Not the projectionist. When he makes a mistake it is always the other fellow's fault. He isn't promoted in his job because the boss can't appreciate ability. He isn't invited out because people don't understand him, and when he shows poor judgment, it is because he has been misled by the poor advice of others.

"I think he's cute!" Mazie told me. And if I needed anything to prove that you can never understand a woman in love, that was enough.

people who are projectionists to a greater or lesser degree. The Scandal Cat, who is forever reciting the sins and short comings of others in order to shine more brightly in comparison to them as a paragon of virtue and perfection is one of them. The religious fanatic is another. Religion is the greatest philosophy or way of life in the world, and it always will be. Still there are people who, by their religion fanaticism are doing more harm to religion in general than good. They, too, are projectionists, because they measure others by their own narrow standards.

If you have projectionist tendencies, there is a way to overcome them. It requires an immediate right about face in your opinion of others. You have to face the reality that there are weaknesses in your own nature which others do not possess, just as they are weaker in traits that you possess. You have to learn to be your own stern judge, to throw out excuses, self pity, false pride, and replace them with understanding and sympathy for others.

Do you want to know where I learned all this? From Mazie. It's her new program for Chadwick!

Dear Jane:

"Now over trees and rocky ledges lies

A drifting loveliness that comes, like peace,

An unannounced and tremulous surprise,

Covering gashes till the earth-wounds cease

To cry aloud for comforting.

Lays gentle balm upon each twisted tree,

On fissures torn in hillsides by some blow

Of cosmic might, and the white mystery

Sometimes turns pain itself to something more

Of gallantry and beauty than is found

In the untired. Here sorrow bows before

A healing glory that is all around,

Maine Teacher in Tokyo

J. W. Anderson of Des Plaines, history teacher at Maine township high school since 1942, will leave for Seattle, Wash., March 16 to join a staff of civilian instructors being sent to the Far East to operate schools for American servicemen in Japan and the Philippine Islands.

Upon receiving official notification of his appointment from the Educational Division, U. S. Army, the Maine Board of Education voted to grant Mr. Anderson an 18-month leave of absence. He will serve under the Far East Command.

His new duties will be to give soldiers enrolled in his classes training comparable to that received in large high schools in the States. Mrs. Anderson expects to join her husband as soon as suitable living quarters can be found.

TAX FACTS

By George E. Mahlin, Executive Secretary
Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois

In addition to taxes for county, school, township or road district, and municipal government purposes—and the many functions of each that have already been outlined—your tax bill may also include amounts for a number of special taxing districts.

These special purpose districts are created by majority vote at elections initiated by petition. The boundaries of such a special district are set forth in the petition.

Such special purpose districts are: Sanitary districts for drainage and sewage disposal; forest preserve districts in any counties having natural forests or parks; park districts; mosquito abatement districts; public health districts; fire protection districts for the prevention and control of fires therein, primarily for rural areas; tuberculosis sanitarium districts; aviation districts; river conservancy districts; wild life districts; and hospital districts.

All such special districts may issue bonds, except the wild life, mosquito abatement and public conservancy, hospital, aviation and park districts may levy separate taxes to pay interest on health districts. Sanitary, river and retire principal of bonds, other special districts may not. All special districts may levy a separate tax for their contributions to the Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund for employees' pensions if the districts have set up this fund by petition and referendum.

A budget and appropriation ordinance must be prepared for each of these special districts as provided in the Illinois Municipal Budget Act, and at least one public hearing must be held hereon. Notice must be given of the hearing by publication in a newspaper, if there is one published in the special district. If there is no such newspaper, the notice must be posted in five of the most public places in such district.

When you pay your local property tax, you are buying governmental services from your county, school districts, township or road district, municipality and such special purpose governments as you and your neighbors have voted into existence. When the tax levies for each of those local governments have been adopted by your public officials—or by you in the case of township town meetings—and have been certified to your county clerk, then the major step in determining the amount of your tax bill has been completed. The tax levies are the amounts of tax money that your local officials want to spend.

The most important thing to remember about this second part of the story behind your tax bill is this: the more tax money that your officials of your local governments ask for in their tax levies, the higher will be your tax bill.

Although for all practical purposes your local governments will get no more tax money to spend

Questions on G. I. bill

Question: Are Government Compensation checks to disabled veterans subject to tax, attachment, levy or seizure?
Answer: No.

Question: I am a beneficiary on a G.I. Insurance policy. How can I establish my age and relationship to the deceased veteran?
Answer: (1) Age of beneficiary may be established by birth certificate or church record of baptism or other evidence as may be required by the Veterans Administration.

(2) Proof of relationship may be established by record of marriage, birth certificate or church record of baptism and such other proof as may be required by the veteran Administration.

Question: Is a veteran who leaves his job entitled to readjustment allowance?
Answer: If the veteran leaves suitable work voluntarily, without good cause, or is suspended or discharged for misconduct in the course of employment, he may be disqualified for as many as five weeks.

Question: Is money received from Social Security classified as income for widow's pension purpose in non-service connected cases?
Answer: Yes. Money received from Social Security (Old-age & Survivors Insurance) is classified as income and must be reported when filing for widow's pension.

$10,000 contest open to state's young gardeners

Illinois junior growers whose members won five awards in the 1947 production and marketing contest of the National Junior Vegetable Growers association will have another opportunity in 1948 to improve their stellar records.

In announcing the eighth annual contest, Prof. Grant B. Snyder of the University of Massachusetts, senior adviser to the association, points out that Illinois boys and girls between the ages of 14 and 21 are now eligible to compete for the $6,000 in agricultural scholarships offered by A&P Food Stores each year.

Junior growers can enroll through their local 4-H club leaders or agents and through instructors in vocational agriculture or directly through Prof. Snyder at Amherst, Mass.

Ornstein, herself individually and Francine Ornstein, have sued Edward Silvey, administratrix of the estate of the late Sol A. Silvey, deceased, and the Public Service Co. of Illinois in circuit court for a total of $45,000 damages for the result of an automobile accident. It happened August 17 on Rand road near Des Plaines at Golf road. They were guests in Silvey's car. It is charged that he was driving at high speed when the car ran off the road and broke down a Public Service electric power pole bringing down live wires which killed both men and injured the Ornstein women. Damages of $15,000 are sought for each of the three plaintiffs.

Citizen Saint at
Studebaker March 13

One of the most beautiful motion pictures of all time, "Citizen Saint" will open at the Studebaker theatre, Michigan ave., on Saturday (March 13). This is the life of Mother Mary Frances Cabrini, Chicago's own Saint and is a brand new production by Clyde Elliott of Chicago and filmed at RKO-Pathé studios.

The story was written by Father Edward Dailey, of The New World, Chicago diocesan Catholic newspaper. A cast of film notables enact the thrilling and inspiring drama.

In addition to "Citizen Saint", the Studebaker program features the Sacred Singers of Rome. These are the soloists from the Vatican, now touring the United States and winning great acclaim for their superb music. Besides there is an amusing short subject, "The Bannister Babies", featuring the youngsters made famous by the renowned photographer, Helen Bannister.

Admission to the Studebaker for this program will be less than prices at any Loop theatre so that as large a number of persons, old and young, as at all possible will be able to see this inspiring picture and also help the Mercy drive by their patronage.

Ice Capades opens at Arena March 15

Ice Capades of 1948, opening March 15 at the Chicago Arena, is the greatest edition in the history of the magnificent revue and called by many critics in cities it has played the most lavish entertainment ever offered anywhere.

Lovely Donna Atwood reaches new heights in her work this year. Bobby Specht demonstrates convincingly why he is king of all figure skaters. Alan Konrad also receives plaudits for his dashing solo.

Red McCarthy has a sensational new number in which he portrays "The Bat", surpassing everything the remarkable red-head has ever done for speed and thrills.

The ever popular "Old Smoothies," Markus and Thomas, are back with their graceful waltzing that stops the show. Eric Waite, Jackson and Lynam, Esco La Rue and Al Surette supply the comedy in generous doses and Nate and Edythe Walley, Chuckie Stein, Patti Philippi, Phil Taylor and many other favorites are featured in the huge cast of 200.

Ice Capades of 1948 will play nightly performances at 8:30 at the Arena through April 1. Sunday matinees are scheduled March 21 and 28.

Modern Etiquette

Q. What is the correct way for a married woman to sign her name in social correspondence?
A. She should use her full name. If Jane Smith has married Henry Brown, she should sign her social correspondence, "Jane Smith Brown" or, "Jane S. Brown." In writing to a stranger, she should write below her signature, "Mrs. Henry Brown."

Q. Is it bad form to tip, a soup bowl, or a plate containing liquid food, when eating?
A. Yes; this is too often done, and should be avoided.

Q. When accompanying a woman in the rain, should the man carry the umbrella?
A. Yes, always.

Q. Is it necessary that a person state his reason for declining an invitation?
A. No; while it is not obligatory, it is oftentimes a courteous thing to do, and probably will avoid a misunderstanding and resentment.

Q. What would be the proper way to introduce Miss Smith to Mrs. Brown?
A. Say, "Mrs. Brown, may I present Miss Smith?" Or, "Mrs. Brown, Miss Smith." Always present the unmarried woman to the married one.

Q. Is it permissible to greet a friend if one catches his eye while seated in church?
A. Merely smile; to speak or bow is unnecessary.

Q. Is it ever permissible to leave the spoon in the cup while drinking coffee or tea?
A. No. As soon as the coffee or tea is stirred, the spoon should be placed in the saucer and remain there.

Q. May a woman who is wearing a coat and is dining in a public place, retain the coat instead of checking it?
A. Yes; she may slip the coat over the back of her chair, or place it on another chair at the table.

Q. What is an appropriate kind of flower for the boutonniere, to be worn by the ushers at a formal church wedding?
A. A single white flower.

Q. Is it obligatory to send a gift upon receiving an announcement of a birth?
A. No; but it is a nice gesture on your part if you do so.

Q. What is the correct way for a married woman to sign her name in social correspondence?
A. She should use her full name. If Jane Smith has married Henry Brown, she should sign her social correspondence, "Jane Smith Brown" or, "Jane S. Brown." In writing to a stranger, she should write below her signature, "Mrs. Henry Brown."

National honor society at Arlington high school initiates 26 students

by ANNE LYMAN

"The young men and the young women who possess the qualities of character, leadership, scholarship, and service today will be the leaders of tomorrow," Arlington Heights high school recognizes these qualities in its students and rewards them by membership into the National Honor society. High schools throughout the United States belong to this organization because of the challenge and inspiration it gives to youth.

An atmosphere of solemnity pervaded the high school auditorium February 24 when the student body and parents of the pledges witnessed the impressive initiation ceremony of the National Honor society. Every face was fixed intently upon the black-robed figures bearing lighted candles, marching in a sedate procession to the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance." After the twenty-six initiates had come individually to the stage, the president, William Lasley, opened the ceremony by introducing the four speakers who talked on the ideals of the Honor society—character, scholarship, leadership and service.

Kenneth Gronert pointed out the importance of a strong, worthy character for admittance into the society. Marilyn Schlemmer next emphasized the need for leadership in the world of man. "A learned man always has wealth within himself," Joanne Leckband stated in the third ideal—scholarship. "Of all the objectives of the Honor society, service holds a place of distinction because it is the culmination of all the other aims. Scholarship, leadership, and character all have their place in a person's make-up, but they are all worthless unless they finally result in active service for others," Pat Kule told the pledges and audience.

FOLLOWING the stating of these aims and purposes, the candles of the pledges were lighted, and the oath of membership was repeated after William Lasley. The new members were then given their creeds and emblems. The Honor Society emblem is the keystone and the flaming torch. This keystone bears at its base the letters, "C," "S," "L," and "S" which stand for character, scholarship, leadership, and service.

The Triple Trio contributed greatly to the mood of the program by singing "The Lord's Prayer" and "Faithful Lord Jesus." As each member walked from the stage in a recessional, his candle burned as a goal for which he would forever strive.

THE CHIEF AIM of the National Honor Society is to create an enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate a desire to render service, to promote worthy leadership, and to encourage the development of character in pupils of Arlington Heights high school.

Seventeen seniors from the class of 1945 were carefully selected as charter members of the National Honor Society when it was first established four years ago. In a solemn ceremony the new chapter was officially installed by Maine township high school. The Arlington chapter was named the James Scott chapter in memory of James Scott, a former outstanding student of Arlington high who was killed in World War II. Mr. and Mrs. Scott were made honorary members of the society.

Candidates eligible to election into the National Honor society must be in the upper third of their class in scholarship, maintaining a "B" average, and must have spent at least one semester at Arlington high. Not more than fifteen per cent of the senior class and five per cent of the junior class may be elected to membership. An active member who has fallen short of the standards of the society is either dropped from the chapter or put on probation for a specified length of time.

SINCE ACTIVITIES are of equal merit with scholarship in admittance into the Honor society, a point system is used in selecting new members. A student must be eligible as far as scholarship is concerned before he fills out his activity blank.

Revamp science program at ANTHS

Under the new science program plan at the Arlington Hts. township high school, only one year of science will be required for graduation.

However, a student may continue taking up to four years of science courses. The new plan was announced by Nelson L. Lowry, head of the science department at the high school.

The revised program of courses will offer students a more practical and advanced schedule of science instruction.

Freshmen entering high school have had grade school science equal in material content to the general science course which has been required of freshmen," Lowry stated.

"Such students entering next fall will take biology, formerly offered in the sophomore year," he added.

Under this new plan to offer more advanced science courses, sophomores next year may take either biology or chemistry, and juniors and seniors may choose biology, chemistry or physics.

Algebra will be the only required mathematics course before a student can enroll in physics and chemistry. Special work also will be arranged for students planning to enter college after leaving high school.

At present there are five teachers in the science department with 458 students.

Candidate Nuveen at Palatine Sunday

John Nuveen, Jr., candidate for the republican nomination for congressman of the 13th district in the April 13 primary elections, will speak at the Palatine village hall next Sunday at two o'clock.

Nuveen, born in Chicago in 1896, lives in Kenilworth. He is married and has three children. He is a partner of John Nuveen & Co., municipal bond house, in Chicago, and a lifelong republican and a veteran of World War I.

Nuveen is a trustee of the University of Chicago and Carleton college; President of the Chicago Sunday Evening club, director of the Chicago & Northwestern railroad; vice president, Church Federation of Greater Chicago. He was appointed by Gov. Green as chairman of the Illinois Board of Public Welfare commissioners, 1941-44; regional director, War Production Board, 1939-42; member of the Chicago Crime commission; and a director of the Citizens' association of Chicago.

Since Mr. Nuveen has an appointment in Arlington Heights at three o'clock Sunday, his talk will start promptly at two.

Plan tourist motel and tea room at Rand and Foundry roads

Roy F. and Robert L. McLane, 11 Fairview ave., Park Ridge, informed the Herald this week that the published story in a February issue was in error about the establishment of a trailer camp and tavern on land which they are seeking a rezoning near the intersection of Foundry, Rand and Elmhurst roads.

Their plans are outlined in the following statement made to the Herald:

"We intend to build a tourist motel and a tea room. There definitely will be no liquor served on the premises. The tourist motel will be operated in strict accordance with the rules and regulations of a noted organization, such as the A.A.A.

"The tea room will have all the requirements necessary to meet the standards of the Board of Health, and it will be an asset to the community."

Father of Mt. Prospect man dies in California

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Sturgis of Mt. Prospect have recently returned from a trip to Long Beach, Calif., where they attended the funeral of Mr. Sturgis' father, George W. Sturgis. Mr. Sturgis passed away Saturday, February 23, at the age of 88 years. He was a former business man of Aurora and retired to California 18 years ago.

He leaves to mourn his wife, Mrs. Della Sturgis, and daughter, Mrs. Gladys Rahea, both of Long Beach and a son, F. C. Sturgis of Mt. Prospect.

The ILLINOIS & MICHIGAN CANAL 1848-1948

Read the tale of the old Illinois and Michigan Canal, now celebrating its hundredth birthday, in your Service Bulletin.

It's a story of the Canal's beginnings: about the 4th of July in 1836 when the first spadeful of dirt was turned at Canalport (Bridgeport) in Chicago; it tells of important events which preceded that eventful 4th and of some of the happenings in the twelve years that followed before the great waterway was finished. Lesson in English

WORDS OFTEN MISUSED
Do not say, "I received your last letter this morning," this implying that you do not expect to receive another. Say, "your latest letter."

Do not say, "Please refer back again to chapter three." This is redundancy. Merely say, "Please refer to chapter three."

Do not say, "Either of the three boxes will be satisfactory." Say, "Any of the three," or "Either of the two."

Do not say, "It transpired during my absence." Say, "It occurred (or, happened) during my absence."

Do not say, "Ruth is nowhere near as old as her husband." Say, "Ruth is not nearly so old as her husband."

Do not say, "I wish that it was true." Say, "I wish that it were true." Were is required after wish.

WORD STUDY

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson:

INDISPENSABLE (noun); that which is absolutely necessary.

"The three indispensable of genius are understanding, feeling, and perseverance."—Southey.

MISDEMEANOR; misbehavior; evil conduct. "He committed misdemeanors which offended the public."

COVET; to wish for with eagerness. "We covet what is guarded; the very care invokes the thief."—Ovid.

VITIATE; to contaminate; spoil; corrupt. (Pronounce vishy-ate). "Peevishness of life . . . taints and vitiates what it cannot consume."—Johnson.

COMPREHENSION; the mental grasping of ideas, facts, etc. "The problem confronting us requires a great amount of comprehension."

VOLUNTARY; produced in or by an act of choice. "Drunkenness is nothing but voluntary madness."—Seneca.

Japan

Private Raymond R. Sorensen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Sorensen, of Rte. 2, Palatine, is now serving as a cook with the Headquarters company 4th Engineer Construction group, Kyoto, Japan.

Members of the 4th Engineer construction group make topographic surveys in the Kyoto area, assist in the building of houses for the dependents and improve and maintain better living conditions for the soldiers in the surrounding units.

His organization is an important link in the successful occupation of the American army in the I Corps zone of responsibility, on the main islands of Honshu and the island of Kyushu.

Pvt. Sorensen enlisted in the army on September 5, 1946, at Chicago, Ill., and after completing signal corps basic training at Fort Dix, N. J., was shipped overseas to Japan. Prior to entering the service he worked for his father as a farmer.

Eight Maine students win top honors at state art exhibit

Tuesday, March 15, is the final day of the regional art exhibit at Wieboldt's store in Evanston. Among the 800 art projects in oils, water colors, drawings, fashion designs, ceramics, jewelry and other crafts entered in the show by high school and grammar school students from all parts of Illinois, are 28 exhibits from Maine Township high school.

The exhibition, the only one of its kind held in the state this year, is sponsored by Scholastic Magazine. From this collection of art works 100 were selected for special recognition, the creators receiving gold keys and certificates of merit. The following from Maine received these citations: Marjorie Johnston, jewelry; Lois Pflughaupt, jewelry; Diane Skovel, jewelry; Suzanne Snyder, jewelry; Barbara Thorne, ceramics; Charles Weber, jewelry; Robert Winsell, ceramics; and Jerry Timroth, water colors.

Other Maine students who also exhibited and won "place awards" include Jean Behm, Carl Couve, Jim Fletcher, Annette Johnson, Barbara Kiefer, Marion Linster, Lee Mathies, Betty Netherland, Robert Paul, Don Toller-son.

on 5% commission. He sold it to the Koeines for $16,000. He says payment has been refused on the allegation that no broker was used in the deal.

Chicago Dog Show

The Midwest's largest dog show—sponsored by the International Kennel club of Chicago—is scheduled for Saturday and Sunday, March 27 and 28.

It will be held in the International Amphitheatre—the largest setting for an indoor dog show in the country.

Among the big money shows of the year, generous cash premiums will again be offered at the International. In classes having six or more entries, $10 will be awarded for first, $5.00 for second, and $3.00 for third. For those comprising one to five entries, the schedule is $5.00 for first, $3.00 for second, and $2.00 for third.

Sterling silver trophies are offered for the winners of the Variety Groups and for Best in Show.

An unusual entertainment feature of the International show is an exhibition of Field Trial Work that is scheduled for both days. An entire exhibit wing of the International Amphitheatre will be utilized for these events.

Over 50,000 square feet will be converted into an earth cover. A huge tank will also be installed, wherein the dogs will work in water as well as under field conditions. Bleacher seats affording a good view of the entire field will be provided.

The "Stop-at-Nothing" Vehicle the Whole Country Needed—

4-WHEEL-DRIVE UNIVERSAL

Jeep

THE UNIVERSAL 'JEEP' is the kind of vehicle this country has needed for forty years. It is a tough, rugged vehicle that can always be depended on to take men and supplies where they are needed.

With selective 2- and 4-wheel drive, the Universal "Jeep" gives speed on hard roads and ability to get over bad roads or travel cross-country. With all four wheels pulling, you go through mud, sand and snow that stops ordinary vehicles. The "Jeep" will climb a 60-per-cent grade and maneuver its way through dense growth.

For every kind of work—on or off the road, in any weather—the Universal "Jeep" measures up to every need. We invite you to drive the "Jeep" fifty miles and see for yourself.

Let's Talk It Over!

PARK LANE LAUNDRY can do your family wash better and cheaper. They're different from most laundries. They are using modern equipment and new methods. They use no injurious chemicals or acids and actually PROLONG the life of your clothes. Clothes are bathed in white billowy suds for 12 long minutes . . . and then rinsed in fresh clear water until they are 100 per cent free of soap and dirt. Your clothes come back smelling sweet and white as snow. Yes, it sounds like a dream, but Park Lane is doing it every day.
